Discerning Alien Disinformation: Part I

Introduction

In less than a decade, mankind will be confronted with undeniable public disclosure of the alien presence.* The critical choices that follow will turn into tragic consequences if made in ignorance, confusion, weakness, or desperation. Therefore informed choices must be made to safeguard human freedom. This book is about acquiring discernment in handling future relations with alien forces by seeing and learning from their current methods of deception. We must consider the possibility of alien deception so that we can preempt it.

Distinguishing between peaceful and aggressive aliens is easy. A more difficult question is how to discern between positive aliens and negative ones pretending to be positive. This question is important because research suggests not all alien factions are sincere or have our best interests at heart. If hostile forces cunningly imitate benevolent ones, then anyone refusing to acknowledge this possibility invites deception. Those who deeply investigate the alien presence will inevitably conclude that such impostors are already here on earth waging psychological warfare upon us to disarm discernment and create within the population a growing desire for their imminent arrival and leadership.

* This estimate is based on several factors including: 1) the rate at which the public is being acclimated to the existence of aliens, 2) the speed at which climate, economic and political instabilities are heading toward conditions ripe for alien intervention, 3) what abductees and contactees have been told concerning the completion of the alien hybridization program and timing of alien contact with humanity at large, 4) the popular anticipation that 2012-2013 will be a time of great transformation, which would be a strategic entry point for aliens intending to play upon those expectations, 5) the potentially devastating effects of the next solar cycle set to peak 2010-2013, and 6) personal observations on the current readiness of individuals who will likely play roles in galactic diplomacy and how many more years it will take for them to reach full maturity for the task.

If we enter into diplomatic relations with deceptive forces without recognizing them as such, we will be doomed to repeat history for the last time. Let us be reminded of how the Native Americans traded away valuable land for worthless trinkets and broken promises, or how even today Americans are trading their freedoms for tyranny in the name of security.* If it has happened before, what prevents it from happening again? Nothing except the awareness to choose differently. To preempt this possibility, we must know our priorities and develop a keen understanding of the differences between positive forces and negative impostors.

Asking how we can discern between the two will tug firmly at the lynchpin of the entire deception. Some might reject this by assuming all aliens must be positive, that such an exercise in prudence is nothing more than "xenophobic paranoia." Well, maybe they are letting their biases interfere with their better judgment. Unfortunately this attitude is common today considering the scope and finesse of the alien disinformation campaign. It has been so intricately tailored to human psychological blind spots and emotional weaknesses that all but the most discerning and intuitively astute are being misled. As the saying goes, the road to hell is paved with good intentions: regardless of how much one pursues peace, love, and progress, without necessary awareness of contingencies the results may be just the opposite.

It is my firm conviction that genuinely positive aliens do exist and are active in our world, but that their true nature does not conform to popular expectation. Rather, it is the impostors who dress themselves in our naive scientific, cultural, religious, and spiritualistic assumptions to fortify their image.

Without knowledge of what positive aliens are truly like, people might accept the faux alternative. So my objective for this book is to survey the falsehoods propagated by the impostors and in later parts discuss the true nature of positive aliens. This should provide a good base of suggestions from which perceptive readers may formulate their own criteria of discernment.

Researching Transcendent Phenomena

It must be made absolutely clear that the alien phenomenon is nebulous by nature. Attempting to apply rigid scientific standards of objectivity to the alien phenomenon is impractical and unrealistic. Science has the luxury of dealing with a material reality that is universally verifiable, but the alien phenomenon is more complex and subtle than materiality. Not only does it involve intelligent beings who can choose how much of themselves to reveal and with whom they interact, but their interactions with us are governed by interdimensional dynamics that require dependence on the observer.

Unequivocal proof of aliens is personal and non-transferrable.* This tendency toward personal rather than objective proof does not mean that the alien phenomenon is subjective, as subjectivity would imply it has no independent existence and is just a product of the imagination. Nor is it objective, because objectivity would imply it has its own independent existence that is verifiable by anyone. Rather it transcends subjectivity and objectivity altogether by having an independent existence that only reveals itself on an individual, personal basis.

* The metaphysical, hyperdimensional, and intelligent nature of the alien presence makes the UFO phenomenon function like a macroscopic quantum phenomenon dependent on the observer. This leads to an uncertainty principle preventing universal certainty. So the more universal the proof of aliens, the less convincing the evidence, as with videotaped UFO sightings, which, despite being viewable by anyone, are too lacking in detail to be convincing. Conversely, the more convincing the evidence, the less universal the proof, as happens with abductees who have undeniable personal proof of their experiences but are unable to record and thus share their experiences.

To penetrate the alien phenomenon, one must possess good intuition, sharp observation skills, be flexible in working with probabilities and provisional hypotheses instead of simplistic black and white dichotomies, have developed a good nose for detecting disinformation, be familiar with the available research to date, and as a bonus have adequate personal experience with the subject as well as empathic ability to psychically detect insincerity in others. If one or more of these assets is lacking, good use of the rest may compensate.

These qualities are what I myself have had to call upon to evolve the alien scenario presented in this book. It currently fits everything I have experienced, researched, observed, and intuited in life. What makes a good theory? That it has not been disproved by the facts, is the simplest theory explaining known data without having to ignore counter-evidential data, reveals real order behind things previously thought to be unrelated, can be personally tested and verified, meets continual confirmation from new data, and compared to alternatives it is the most probable and intuitively resonant theory true to experience and observation.

For the past fifteen years I have studied a broad range of books, magazines, lectures, documentaries, radio shows, news articles, websites, and research journals relevant to the alien presence. These were interpreted against the backdrop of my personal experiences, intuition, critical thinking, and the anecdotes of trusted others. From this I have pieced together a minimally complex hypothesis concerning whom the main alien players are, what the range of their capabilities appears to be, how they typically operate, and what this indicates about their possible motives.

However accurate or inaccurate my theory, the real situation is more complicated than what I am describing here. If nothing else, let what follows demonstrate the minimum level of complexity needed to approach the alien subject.

Description of the Primary Alien Types

I will begin by surveying the primary alien players: Greys, Reptilians, Mantids, and Nordics. These are the four recurring characters in both legitimate research and alien disinformation literature.* Of course there are other alien types, but they are not as prominent as these four, who appear in source after source. Therefore I will skip discussing the less noteworthy aliens and focus on the popular ones.

Greys

Greys are the most commonly encountered type of alien. They are between three and five feet tall with disproportionately large bulbous heads. Their skin varies from dolphin-grey to porcelain white and has a dry, rough, highly elastic texture. Hair and earlobes are absent; nose and mouth are vestigial. Greys are known for their prominent eyes, which are catlike or else completely obsidian if concealed beneath a dark covering. Their eyes range from small to large, round to almond-shaped. Their manner of movement may be described as swift and serpentine but robotic and graceless.

Greys are known to experience panic and frustration but lack complex emotions like empathy, compassion, love, and humor. This suggests their awareness is sustained by the primitive reptilian portion of the brain while the rest is purposed toward psychic and intellectual functions. What qualities make them useful has been overdeveloped, while the rest has been reduced. They are minimalist lifeforms optimized for their intended function.

Greys are genetically engineered, psychically enhanced, transdimensional worker-beings endowed with rudimentary sentience and a computer-like intelligence. In their most basic form they are artificially intelligent, programmable, organic robots grown in vessels from harvested biological materials. Greys work in groups, linked psychically into a hive mind, though each has some level of autonomy.

Their DNA is a modification of the reptilian genome, optimized for maximum psychic and cybernetic qualities. Cybernetic means they are remotely controllable when necessary, functioning as remote psychic probes, avatars, or portals through which the consciousness of their superiors may temporarily operate. So although by default they are programmed yet intelligent automatons with their own basic awareness, they are readily possessed or controlled by an external intelligence.

The Grey genome can infuse psychic and cybernetic elements into a fully sentient species through hybridization. This produces a new race that is psychically more potent but consciously more controllable. Tall Greys with a sentient demeanor and individualized consciousness are an extreme example of this, while Greys in their quintessential form are short worker drones; the former are often seen leading or supervising the latter. Any proportion of hybridization is possible with any number of species including humans and animals.

Greys are sometimes physical, other times seemingly ethereal. They can vary between these states depending on how deeply they have been projected or dimensionally rotated into our dimension. If deep enough to share the same level as us, they will be completely physical to our senses. If only partially, then they will be invisible to our eyes yet lurking around to observe and influence. When physically invisible, Greys can still be intuitively detected, seen and tracked by animals, and perceived during astral projections or the hypnopompic state of consciousness.

Some Greys are not physical beings but thought-forms, which are etheric constructs without physical bodies who lack the ability to materialize in the physical. They would be used more for human possession, influencing, and monitoring purposes, whereas the tangible Greys are used for physical tasks like handling abductees.

Aliens native to another dimension, who require interaction with humans without crossing the dimensional border themselves, may use Greys as remote probes for psychically subduing, managing, and extracting human abductees from the physical plane. If Greys are grown from biological materials harvested from our world, their bodies would consist of materials already attuned to our dimension, which affords them easier operation within our physical environment. This would be the main reason Greys are so prevalent in abduction reports.

Another reason Greys are so commonly reported is that they are convenient front men for alien or human military factions wishing to keep their own involvement in the abduction phenomenon hidden for strategic purposes. These include Reptilian, Mantid, and Nordic alien types. Less is known about them than the Greys because they are met less often and are fewer in number. That does not mean they are less involved in the abduction phenomenon; they manage their abduction programs from behind the scenes and allow the Greys to continue with their given assignments without intervention by authorities unless demanded by circumstance.

Reptilians

Reptilians are humanoid beings with alligator-like features including vertical pupils, scales, and sometimes tails. There are different factions and types of Reptilians, though they all share traits of being highly intelligent and good tactical strategists; some even have excellent human language skills. Only a small minority are of relatively benevolent orientation,* while the rest appear too heavily locked into their genetically programmed predisposition toward psychopathy, power, and control. The latter

* As for the possiblity of benevolent Reptilians, this has been circumstantially suggested by The Lacerta Files, The Convoluted Universe Book Two (Cannon, 2005, pp. 272-300), and television shows like V: The Miniseries and Stargate SG-1 where fifth columnists worked within the ranks of negative aliens to subvert their control. If benevolent Reptilians exist, they would likely keep a very low profile.

are commonly implicated in incidences of rape, torture, and mutilation of humans by aliens.*

Reptilians are transdimensional and can physically manifest in our dimension for limited periods of time. Normally they stay back in their dimension in a more ethereal state and remotely operate Grey drones. When interfacing through a Grey, they can remotely feed off the emotional energy emitted by a terrified abductee nearby. This lifeforce energy is a source of nourishment and power for all interdimensional aliens of a negative orientation, as it does for their ethereal bodies and technologies what physical fuel does for our physical bodies and technologies. Reptilians are seen less often than Greys, but are known to be one of their superiors.

Mantids

Mantids are man-sized preying mantises with triangular heads, large wraparound eyes, and long bent arms. They are rarely seen except in the company of Reptilians or Greys aboard ships. Their consciousness is unemotional, calculating, but highly proficient in technical matters. They likely work as technicians specializing in consciousness manipulation, timeline alteration, and dimensional engineering.

Nordics

Nordics look like white Caucasian males and females. They are usually fair-skinned with light-colored eyes and primarily blond hair, though some have darker hair. Compared to the average human, Nordics tend to have better physiques, larger eyes, and greater stature. They are also telepathic and have superhuman intelligence. Nordics are also interdimensional beings normally existing beyond the dimensional veil, the difference being that sentient Nordics are relatively more adept at projecting themselves into our physical plane for extended periods of time than Reptilians, Mantids, and Greys. They can and do walk among us in public without notice.

Nordics fall into three main categories. When seen working with Greys as docile assistants, they are likely servile clones or synthetic humanoids rather than actual sentient Nordics. When they function as controllers and supervisors to Greys, Mantids, and Reptilians, they are Nordics of a negative orientation. When they are fully sentient, individualistic, ethical, and supportive of freewill, they are Nordics of a positive orientation.

Thus the Nordic physiology itself is no indication of orientation or intention. This is further complicated by positive and negative types blending smoothly into each other near the middle of the spectrum. Qualitatively speaking, the more negative Nordics have a coldness behind their eyes, positive Nordics a warmth, and servile Nordics a certain vacuousness.

Alien Involvement in Human History

Whatever alien groups were responsible for genetically engineering humans and seeding them upon various worlds are likely no longer with us. Nevertheless, some alien types, including the ones mentioned above, have made their own modifications to the human gene pool in more recent times. These modifications include the genetic programming of humans with universal weaknesses, biases, and shortcomings. Another modification is the creation of bloodlines with specific talents, predispositions, and destinies; specifically, bloodlines with penchants for political elitism, combative superiority, or psychic potency. None of the alien groups present today can rightly claim they created the human species, though falsely taking credit would help the ones advancing a negative agenda.

Historical, mythological, religious, and archeological records indicate aliens interacted openly with humans in ancient times. There were different warring alien factions, each faction had their respective human followers who saw them as gods and got caught up in their skirmishes. Some of this is evident in the Old Testament. Considering Biblical chronology, it appears that starting around 1,000 B.C. human-alien interactions became more covert, transitioning from "gods" openly walking the earth to private meetings with selected individuals, ambiguous sightings, and subjective visions.

While for society at large the alien presence faded from tangibility into myth, alien factions continued to advance their agendas covertly. This included the establishment of human secret brotherhoods who were entrusted with special knowledge and powers to shape the course of civilization and act according to the goals of their alien benefactors. Secret societies varied in their orientations, some bent on world domination and hoarding of knowledge, others charged with safeguarding esoteric knowledge from abuse and counterbalancing the forces of corruption.

Can Human Minds Comprehend Alien Motivations?

Regarding alien intentions, we must recognize that although aliens are different from us in many ways, in other ways they are very similar. The most commonly reported types — whether Nordic, Reptilian, Grey, or Mantid — are humanoid, having a torso with two legs and two arms, a head with two eyes, mouth, and nose. They are mortal, require sustenance, and travel in vehicles. They can communicate telepathically and sometimes verbally with humans.

According to information provided by abductees, contactees, and insiders, the majority of their supposed interstellar points of origin — Sirius, Arcturus, Procyon, Pleiades, Zeta Reticuli — are less than one hundred light-years from earth. That is 0.1% the diameter of the Milky Way. The similarity and proximity is so significant that we are very likely dealing with our cosmic relatives, whether future evolutionary offshoots of the human race who have traveled back in time, aliens who have genetically modified us in their image, or other variants of the humanoid template seeded on other worlds in this sector of the galaxy.

Therefore, alien motivations are not so foreign as to be a total mystery to our human minds. We can glimpse their mindset and intentions through sufficiently broad and deep research, personal interaction, clairvoyance, or even tapping into residual knowledge from having been alien in other incarnations.

What fails is intellectualizing from common scientific or religious assumptions about what their motivations might be while rejecting data from less conventional sources. The alien deception relies on these naive assumptions to build an overly simplistic anthropomorphic mask of plausibility to hide their true intentions.

What Observational Data Reveals of Alien Capabilities

Understanding the alien agenda is not easy, but it's also not impossible. It can be approached, even if only partially, through uncommon intuition, awareness, and discernment. The first step is gaining a better understanding of their true nature and abilities. Let's examine what UFO and abduction research reveals so far.

Alien ships can seem bigger on the inside than the outside, accelerate quickly to extreme velocities, travel at supersonic speeds without causing sonic booms, make sharp turns without inertial side-effects, jump between locations as though teleporting, and become invisible. When they hover at low altitudes over cars and buildings an audible pulsating hum is typically heard. Their hovering mechanism appears to involve pulsed gravitational fields synthesized from separate waveforms to produce directional thrust.*

All these indicate mastery over the fabric of spacetime. Alien technology can alter the local gravitational potential to change the time rate, nullify inertia, and compress space to change physical scale. Invisibility and teleportation suggests they have access to hyperspace as well, moving into hyperspace slightly to become invisible, or entirely to take a shortcut to another location. Their technology is therefore ultra-relativistic and hyperdimensional in nature.

* See Unconventional Flying Objects (Hill, 1995) for a scientific investigation into UFO propulsion systems. Through a process of elimination, the author concluded that pulsed gravitational fields were employed. If so, then directionality would be possible through a phased array of field emitters.

Aliens can walk or float through solid walls. Using a special beam emitted by the alien ship outside, they can target, levitate, and extract an abductee from his home through solid glass windows, thin walls, and other nonferrous barriers. The abductee does not dematerialize into energy or small particles, but rather slips through the barrier like one sheet of paper over another.

Alien technology allows the generation of wormholes or short conduits through hyperspace between distant points in space-time. This can manifest as a portal that opens into the abductee's bedroom and leads to an underground base.

Abductees may experience a sudden cessation of natural outside noises (like the chirping of crickets) during the onset of an abduction. They may also notice a change in air pressure, an unsettling alteration in the contrast level of light and shadows in the room, an amber tint to the air, and a feeling like a heavy veil or bell jar is descending over themselves or the immediate area.* These indicate that the local area is being dimensionally isolated from the surrounding space and disconnected from the surrounding time stream so that, for potential witnesses outside the bubble, the abduction takes place in a single moment and thereby escapes their observation. Otherwise abductions would be impossible in busy urban areas. The bubble also produces a shifted environment that is easier for incoming abductors to operate within since it meets them halfway.

Abductors also have physiological and psychological control over their targets. Roadside abductions involve a driver getting

* The Cassiopaean Transcripts explains the amber tinting as bleed-through from "fourth density" (higher-dimensional realm). I have observed this and alteration in lighting contrast during the onset of an abduction. Sight Unseen (Hopkins and Rainey, 2004) mentions amber tinting. Chasing Phantoms (Conti, 2009) recounts this phenomenon and the bell jar effect as well.

the sudden irresistible urge to pull over. Abductees at home who are not yet asleep may feel a strong pressure to quickly lie down and go to sleep, or feel their willpower and self-control slipping away as a veil of heaviness descends over them. Greys have telepathic ability to subdue abductees, induce or remove fear, and cause temporary paralysis.

Not all abductions are physical. Some take not the body but the soul, more specifically the etheric and astral bodies, which during sleep separate naturally from the physical body and hover over it. The soul is whisked away by a vortical tractor beam and taken dimensionally upwards where abductors perform various scans and manipulations upon it before returning it to the body. The abductee is rarely aware of any of this, unless accidentally awakening while out of body, in which case it's possible to fight the tractor beam and avoid the soul abduction through sheer willpower to return to the body and awaken. Thus, interdimensional aliens are capable of directly manipulating the nonphysical components of human beings, not just the physical.

All the above is, for the most part, common knowledge in abduction research. Less known is the degree to which aliens can manipulate thoughts, feelings, perceptions, life events, and history itself. Even less known are their more esoteric and nonphysical motivations. Information about these must be distilled from areas outside the usual gamut of abduction research. It comes from private personal experiences correlated with that of others, plenty of careful observation and testing, suggestions and inspiration from unconventional sources, and creative puzzle solving with pieces that on the surface seem unrelated to the abduction phenomenon, such as ideas found in occult, gnostic, shamanic, religious, or spiritual works for instance. This will be discussed in the next part.

Discerning Alien Disinformation: Part II

The All-Pervasive but Hidden Nature of Alien Control

Alien interactions are not solely confined to mysterious sightings at a distance, or abductions that only happen to a few rare individuals. It is not something that can be kept at an intellectual distance, where, if you have neither seen a UFO nor know yourself to be an abductee, aliens have no presence or influence in your life. In truth, aliens have a seeming omnipresence enabled by their interdimensionality that extends their influence not only into our homes, but also into our minds. No one is immune to this except humans of zero interest or those with special tactical awareness who have taken full countermeasures. Being useful or threatening to the agenda of even one alien faction will attract their attention, which leads to subsequent covert monitoring and influencing. They have no logistical limitations concerning whom or how many to target.

As mentioned, aliens can lurk nearby while invisible. In physics terminology this happens when they have not yet fully rotated themselves into our dimension, their quantum wave functions have not fully collapsed into our reality, or their quantum phases are not fully locked into our own. In occult terminology, this happens when they manifest within the etheric plane without condensing fully into the physical. The etheric is a transitionary boundary layer between the physical and nonphysical, functioning as an invisible substratum to the physical world but containing energies, beings, and constructs that influence the physical at the quantum level. Think of it as the backstage to our reality, the area behind the curtain of our limited five-sense perception.

In this invisible or etheric state, aliens can monitor targets without normally being noticed. By getting close to their targets, they can more effectively project strong thoughts into a person's subconscious, giving him impulses, ideas, or inspirations that he will take as his own and act upon unless he questions their origins and rationality.

They can reach into a person's body and manipulate his or her chakras and etheric energy circuits to effect anything from enhanced or diminished psychic abilities to emotional and mental imbalances and physical illnesses. Greys in an etheric state are known to attach themselves to a person like an invisible parasite, subtly influencing the person's thoughts, feelings, and behaviors even as he goes about his day.* Aliens who require lifeforce energy for sustenance can also lurk in proximity to highly emotional, sexually charged, or distressing human activities to harvest the energy released.

Targets may also receive etheric implants, etheric gadgetry attached to them externally, and etheric devices or observation booths installed into their homes for monitoring and influencing purposes. This capability can be scaled up to allow alien bases to coexist on top of physical human military bases or airports, for example, dimensionally shifted and thus overlapping, seemingly occupying the same three dimensional space.†

These things occur beyond the perceptual reach of normal waking consciousness and the detectability of standard recording devices or scientific instruments. Nevertheless, animals can perceive etheric activities, as can clairvoyants with second sight, individuals awakening from sleep into a brief hypnopompic state, and those whose consciousness has been chemically detuned from physical reality through hallucinogens. Etheric beings and devices may also show up symbolically in dreams, although dreams alone are not a reliable indicator of what is happening in the etheric environment.

* See CE-VI (Baldwin, 1999) and The Love Bite (Lorgen, 1999, pp. 193-194).

† The late Adrian Dvir claimed aliens had installed a dimensionally overlapping medical clinic into his apartment. Contactee "fore" (member of the Open Minds Forum) was taught by his alien contact about "phasing technology" that could make objects invisible and pass through solid matter. The Cassiopaean Transcripts in session 951104 discusses alien bases dimensionally overlapping human military bases.

Because of their hidden nature, none of these phenomena are all that credible in the eyes of nuts-n-bolts researchers or those with mere casual interest in the subject of aliens. Therefore this aspect of the alien presence, which is perhaps the most ubiquitous, is also the least perceivable and believable by the greater majority. This would benefit any covert agenda aiming to project a false front on the superficial perceptible level, while allocating all serious activities to hidden realms.

Alien abductions also have this duality. On the surface, abductions are purposed toward using humans for scientific study and experimentation, as biological assets for the production of human-alien hybrids, and for the training of abductees to campaign for disclosure, peace, environmental conservation, and other politically correct causes. While these elements do exist within the abduction phenomenon, other less noble purposes are also present but kept hidden.

Energy Harvesting and Implants

One of these hidden elements is the harvesting of lifeforce energy from abductees by traumatizing them with fear, terror, pain, sexual violation, humiliation, or despair. Negative emotions trigger a thick emission of subtle energy from the abductee that is then collected. Greys nearby the abductee can function as siphons through which remotely interfaced Reptilians can slurp up the energy. There are numerous ways to accomplish this, one being sham medical procedures whose real purpose is to disempower and torment the abductee under the guise of necessary research.* Most of this is covered up with layered screen memories of superficial positive experiences, whereby the abductee may have faint memories of being taken and have an irrationally wonderful feeling about it on the one hand, but lingering anxiety and signs of post-traumatic stress on the other.

Yet another method is to induce an atmosphere of fear in the life of the abductee, fear of being taken again, fear of having their children targeted, and fear of creepy aliens skulking about the house at night. Abductee reports of being raped by reptilian entities are not uncommon, which would be a more direct method of harvesting energy and psychologically fracturing the abductee.

Energy harvesting is not limited to abductees; it occurs on a global scale in a more horticultural manner wherever there are clusters of emotionally charged situations releasing usable quantities of energy. Examples: large hospitals, major sporting events, mega-churches, natural disaster zones, any event involving mass casualties, and areas afflicted with war or starvation. This energy is used for nourishment and to power certain etheric technologies and interdimensional maneuvers.†

Some alien implants are powered by this energy, especially the etheric types of implants. Like any etheric thoughtform, they will go inactive if deprived of their energy source. This happens when one refuses to indulge in the particular base emotions sustaining

The Cassiopaean Transcripts* session 941022: "Extreme fear and anxiety builds up fear/anxiety energy which is of a negative nature which fuels the beings that you speak of in that they draw from that and produce a sort of a fueling energy which keeps them going as one of their forms of nourishment based on their metabolic structure. From The Law of One, Book I, Session 26: "The Orion group uses the physical examination as a means of terrifying the individual and causing it to feel the feelings of an advanced second-density being such as a laboratory animal. The sexual experiences of some are a subtype of this experience. The intent is to demonstrate the control of the Orion entities over the Terran inhabitant."

† Far Journeys (Monroe, 1978, pp. 162-172) gives an allegorial depiction of earth as an energy farm producing "loosh" for nonphysical beings via fear, suffering, and death in humans. The same idea has been portrayed in films like The Matrix (1999) and Monsters, Inc. (2001).

these implants, which tend to be the same emotions encouraged by them.

Alien implants are designed not just for remote monitoring purposes, but also remote influencing. Physical implants in the brain can monitor thoughts and produce a disorienting effect when a forbidden line of thinking arises.* They can record one's thoughts, feelings, and perceptions for periodic analysis by an alien observer. The data retrieved may indicate weaknesses, threatening trends, and useful tendencies to take into account during further manipulations. Etheric implants can be placed anywhere depending on their function, including in the head to interfere with thoughts, the lower torso to jack into the lower chakras and manipulate base emotions, and elsewhere for tracking and other purposes.†

Mind Programming

Another prevalent but little discussed aspect of abductions is mind programming, the insertion of harmful posthypnotic commands into an abductee's subconscious. The command to forget an abduction and remember a screen memory is just one manifestation of this phenomenon, and it can just as easily be used for more insidious purposes.

These commands are given while the abductee is in an artificially induced hypnotic trance and can lie dormant in the subconscious until triggered hours, days, or weeks later to produce a strong compulsion to carry out the command. They may also work continuously to bias thoughts, feelings, perceptions, and reactions in a predetermined direction. The aim of mind pro-

* It is not uncommon for individuals to suddenly get sleepy, fidgety, or brain-fog when reading, watching, or hearing something they are "not supposed to learn." Such materials tend to center on information helpful to freeing them from manipulation by negative forces. I suspect that brain implants could accomplish this automatically by monitoring for keywords or key-thought-patterns and injecting an electrical or etheric impulse to disrupt the thinking process. Posthypnotic commands could do this as well.

† The Love Bite (Lorgen, 1999, pp. 199-200)

gramming is behavioral modification toward greater compliance with an agenda and greater submission to the abductors and mind programmers. Alien posthypnotic commands are given telepathically and come with nonverbal layers reinforcing the accompanying verbal command.

In mind programming, desirable behaviors are induced and undesirable ones suppressed. The first includes obsession with disinformative ideas, intensely desiring further abductions, falling into an artificially orchestrated relationship with another abductee, and being compelled to rationalize away ideas that contradict the agenda. The second includes sudden and total loss of faith in pursuits that would have undermined alien control, becoming irrationally antagonistic and break relations with friends, having a strong aversion to certain lines of research, or simply being struck with spells of forgetfulness or sleepiness when getting too close to forbidden territory.*

If an abductee is targeted for elimination due to having become too aware, unpredictable, or influential in defiance of the agenda, then programming becomes a tool of attrition hitting multiple subconscious vulnerabilities simultaneously for extended periods of time. It wears down the target through repeated inductions of doubt, procrastination, cynicism, anxiety, apathy, fear, irritability, aggression, depression, perversion, suicidal thoughts, and other self-destructive thoughts and feelings. These symptoms do not exclusively indicate mind programming, rather they are selected from the pool of human dysfunctions due to their especially destructive nature.

Secret Don't Tell* (Emery, 1998) gives a comprehensive overview of mainstream knowledge on hypnotism, mind control, and posthypnotic programming. This mainstream knowledge only scratches the surface, however. Alien and military abductors may use more sophisticated techniques like detaching the soul from the body, virtual reality equipment directly linked with the mind, remote dream manipulation, gravitational pulse guns to induce trance states, sophisticated drugs that operate at the quantum level, and vocal hypnotic scripts generated by AI systems integrated with remote viewing networks to gauge the probability of success resulting from a particular command.

People unaware of mind programming are easily defeated by it because they take these unwelcome thoughts as their own. The key to countering mind programming is to identify irrational impulses as they arise, use willpower to keep defying these impulses until they cease, then analyze and fix what personal vulnerabilities were highlighted by the experience.

Although manipulative aliens may use overt threats, rewards, punishment, and harassment to get their way, these tactics are not subtle and thus less likely to succeed when a target grows aware of them. It is more effective to bypass the conscious mind altogether, sneak beneath the threshold of awareness, and thereby reduce the possibility of suspicion and resistance. Aliens are more sophisticated than generally credited, especially when it comes to their tactics of persuasion.

Hyperdimensional Manipulation

To give indication of the level of sophistication involved, consider that mind programming is often paired with another set of tools aliens possess: the ability to view probable futures, make small alterations to the past to change conditions in the present and thereby shift the odds of those probable futures, and program useful people into functioning as strategic players who carry out certain actions.

This allows orchestration of problematic life situations toward which the target will react in the most damaging way according to his posthypnotic programming. Both external reality and the subconscious are set up like dominoes so that they knock each other down and produce the desired outcome. This can be used to socially isolate targets, break up networks, subvert organizations, undercut collaborative projects, and hijack the making of critical decisions. All of it is routine for interdimensional beings who have access to our minds, who have good monitoring abilities, and who are not limited by linear time or logistical shortcomings.

Why would they even bother messing with single individuals? Because small actions can have large consequences. Interdimensional entities have an overhead view of our timeline, able to see the past, present, and future simultaneously as an intelligent, complex, and dynamic network of causal segments and choice points with which they can interact. Due to various quantum and metaphysical factors, they are limited to varying degrees in how much of this network they can perceive and alter. Their standard mode of operation is to target critical moments on the timeline where our future is most in flux, where the smallest nudging on their part produces the largest favorable outcome for them. These moments are choice points where a straight sequence of events splits into multiple probable futures.

The person whose decision these futures hinge upon is then targeted through programming, telepathic persuasion, coercion from people who have been unwittingly influenced to play that role, baiting through artificial synchronicities (freak coincidences designed to create misleading impressions that a certain decision is the right one), disinformative dreams or visions, and other creative forms of persuasion.

Simply by influencing his or her mind into making a different choice, the timeline can be altered.* Small alterations shift the game board and open opportunities for bigger alterations, which in turn prepare the stage for even larger ones. No choice point on the timeline is too small to target since small decisions can cascade into big effects down the line. By patiently and strategically carrying out this process, alien timeline manipulators seek to achieve the ultimate goal of completely turning over a timeline network in their favor, thereby securing a probable future where they have achieved unassailable dominance over their enemies.

Manipulation of Mass Consciousness

For humanity at large, the ultimate choice point is fast approaching and involves a global decision concerning our relationship with alien forces who will have revealed themselves by that point. Are the people of earth ready to make that decision? No, but time is up. As things currently stand, the decision would be heavily biased by the backwards assumptions underpinning our various cultures, the irrational exuberance of religious expectations, and the narrow-minded recommendations of scientific Academia who are clueless about the hidden layers of the alien presence. Then what must be an informed decision will instead become a disinformed decision thanks to alien propaganda and the influence of compromised opinion leaders groomed to persuade hungry minds with selective evidence and slick sophistry.

This is conveniently in line with the nature of hyperdimensional conquest. Unlike physical warfare, it employs nonphysical weapons to fight for nonphysical territory. It is the way of psychological, metaphysical, and interdimensional subjugation. Since consciousness is the foundation of reality, manipulation of consciousness is what secures control over the minds and souls of entire civilizations and thus their destiny and reality. That is the danger we now face.

Discerning Alien Disinformation: Part III

The Nature of Disinformation

Disinformation is the most potent tool for manipulating mass consciousness. While there is no shortage of innocent misinformation stemming from logical fallacies, wishful thinking, false assumptions, selective evidence, and outright ignorance, disinformation intentionally exploits these weaknesses to shape the beliefs and actions of targeted audiences.

Disinformation is especially successful when its core agenda is bundled in the sincere convictions of disseminators who have their own vested interests in believing and defending it. A cold and calculating intelligence may devise a disinformation package to be propagated through a naive individual who finds it so appealing to his ego identity and emotional security that he will do everything to defend it. This allows a small and unseen group of disinformers to work through a vast body of unsuspecting vectors who sincerely believe in what they are doing.

Disinformation also uses selective evidence to support false conclusions. Good reasoning may proceed from false premises, fallacious twists of logic are used, or reasoning is discouraged and the conclusion asked to be taken on either the emotional appeal or authority of its purported source. Disinformation has no problem throwing strategic gambits, revealing genuine but convenient truths to make its case if the payoff is bigger than the sacrifice.

Discerning Disinformation

Discerning disinformation is tricky business. It amounts to performing a mental biopsy on the pathological underpinnings of a suspect source. It helps to have a well-honed intuition that can detect pretense, after which critical thinking converges on the exact problem. Problems tend to be false assumptions, ignored counterexamples, logical fallacies, and ulterior motives.

More specifically, alien disinformation plays to these common psychological vulnerabilities: lazy thinking, ego insecurities and the desire to be special, naive optimism that leads good intentions down a dangerous path, greater respect for credibility and authority than personal discernment and intuition, wishful thinking, desperation for answers and consequent lowering of standards, wonderment at amazing but superficial appearances to the point of gullibility, and desire for escapism out of sheer boredom.

Since the goal is to influence opinion, the best disinformation is concise, slick, and persuasive. It maximizes credibility by taking whatever form of authority the target respects most and is careful to dispel suspicions that the source is doing it for fame or financial gain. It is false to assume that if someone risks publishing revelatory information without asking anything in return, he must be sincere; on the contrary, what disinformation asks for in return is belief in its half-truths.

The best disinformation so tidily packages its deceptions that the containing story can be impressively concise, charming, entertaining, and easy to follow. It goes beyond mere logical fallacies and employs hypnotic techniques to massage the targeted mind into accepting the payload. These manipulation tactics are nothing exotic. Psychological warfare specialists, street magicians, neurolinguistic programmers, and advertisers make regular use of them in their professions.

Disinformation must ideally exploit the deepest desires, insecurities, and blind spots of the target, which necessarily vary by audience type. The originators of disinformation therefore use different methods and sources to appeal to different audiences. In the case of individuals used as unwitting agents of deception, their selection depends on how easily their weaknesses allow them to be hooked into performing that function and how well their strengths are suited to playing on the weaknesses of the audience. In this way a chain of influence reaches the audience by way of an intermediary who has the added appeal of being skilled and respected.

Avenues of Disinformation

What follows is an exploration of several avenues for alien disinformation and why they are convenient and effective. This should indicate just how easily the fringe research community and general public can be misled by sources they trust if they fail to consider the possibilities discussed below. These avenues can also be outlets for truth, so my aim is not to universally discredit these sources, but rather point out their potential shortcomings.

The Channeler

Summary: Channeling involves one or more individuals allowing themselves to be used by unseen intelligences who communicate information through them. This includes the use of Ouija boards, mediumistic trance states, automatic writing, and conscious verbalization of intuitive impressions. Pendulum dowsing, muscle testing, scrying, and crystal gazing may also allow such communication. The channeled sources may claim to be anything ranging from aliens to angels, deceased persons to demonic beings, famous individuals in history, time travelers, other dimensional entities, the subconscious, and impersonal archetypes.

Strength of Source: Discarnate entities, alien beings, and advanced human military factions can transmit verbal and visual information remotely, whether electromagnetically or telepathically. They also have limited ability to induce paranormal phenomena, predict the future, and arrange synchronistic events by which they can prove their existence and overwhelmingly awe the target into submission. This exploits the logical fallacy that truth of existence somehow equates to existence of truth, which ignores the possibility of real sources providing bogus information where it counts. These demonstrations of faux omniscience, omnipotence, and precognition rule out that the source is just a fabrication of the channeler, but do not prove that the source being channeled is necessarily being truthful.

Channeling also affords deceptive sources anonymity and freedom to fabricate an identity and back-story. Channeling is therefore highly customizable to the weaknesses of the targets. The same source can change identities repeatedly to whatever sounds most authoritative.

Weakness of Vector: Establishing and maintaining a connection requires mental dissociation so that the source can come through clearly without restriction by the conscious mind of the channeler. This amounts to a relinquishing of freewill, and a manipulative entity may abuse this offer by sinking roots into the mind of the channeler, deeper than it could otherwise. In worst cases this can lead to possession, where the channeler not only transmits disinformation during specified sessions, but becomes a walking extension of the negative entity, serving an agenda in broader ways. Conscious abandonment over the channeling process may also grow into habitual abandonment of discernment and critical thinking, whereby the channeler simply accepts and relays what is transmitted after having been won over with convenient but trivial truths.

Strength of Vector: Being just the messenger frees a channeler from having to personally defend the information received. The source is likewise freed from always having to back up its claims, relying instead on self-proclaimed authority and various specious excuses. Through channeling, disinformation is given unlimited creative latitude, taking bold and direct expressions since claims that are too far-fetched for other audiences will readily be accepted by channeling enthusiasts. If especially entertaining and fascinating, source and channeler rise to cult or celebrity status, which adds to the authority factor that overrides critical thinking.

Weakness of Audience: Since rationalists perceive chaneling as a dubious means of investigation, it appeals more to people who pride themselves on being open minded and not fettered by the limitations of cold intellect. Yet there is a fine line between open mindedness and gullibility, and those who would replace rather than complement reason with intuition leave themselves vulnerable to logical sleights of hand, emotional manipulation, wishful thinking, and other forms of subjectivity. Channeled disinformation would play upon these weaknesses.

Remote Viewer

Summary: Remote viewing uses rigid protocols to psychically gather information about a target with minimal subjective bias. Several remote viewers may tune into the same target and receive similar impressions, which are then analyzed afterward to construct an accurate assessment of the target. The U.S. military is publicly known to have explored remote viewing as an intelligence gathering method. More recently, various researchers have used remote viewing to probe the nature of the alien presence.

Strength of Source: As in the case of channeling, alien and advanced human disinformers can transmit information remotely through natural or artificial telepathy. Remote viewers, even entire teams, are thus open to having their psychic line spliced by such disinformers and fed misleading impressions.

Weakness of Vector: The greatest weakness is assuming that remote viewing success is measured by its signal to noise ratio, which ignores the possibility of a strong but counterfeit signal. Even with subjectivity eliminated, what remains is no guarantee of being truthful.

Strength of Vector: Remote viewing has a reputation for being rigid, objective, and even scientific. Some of its practitioners have worked for the military, others have respectable academic backgrounds. All this gives it an air of credibility and authority that can augment any disinformation disseminated through it.

Weakness of Audience: Remote viewing appeals to open minded individuals who value objectivity and scientific procedure. Although it is more hard-edged than channeling, when used for disinformation the apparent objectivity is just better window dressing for the same deception. That the public military has experimented with remote viewing and successfully gathered intelligence on targets in nations without psychic defenses does not mean remote viewing alien targets is equally reliable. Disinformation passed through remote viewers disseminates deceptive ideas under the guise of strict objectivity.

Insider / Whistleblower

Summary: Insiders are members of secret societies, military projects, or government agencies who are privy to non-public information. For various reasons, insiders may leak some of this information to the public. Often they do it anonymously, perhaps through third party contacts on the outside who can vouch for their identity but keep it confidential while relaying the information. They may also speak openly without hiding their identity, but then tend to be careful about not revealing more than they are allowed. Some self-claimed insiders are casually upfront and detailed, seemingly holding nothing back.

Strength of Source: Insiders work within highly controlled, compartmentalized, and monitored environments as demanded by the secret nature of their work. They are therefore in proximity to high level sources of disinformation who have immediate access to them, particularly sources stationed above them in the hierarchy. If the source is an advanced military faction, the covert nature of the military network allows personnel to be abducted and mind programmed as necessary to create unwitting disinformation vectors. Personnel may also be tested, monitored, and recruited into becoming skilled disinformation operatives, whether fully aware of their mission to deceive, or given a convincing cover story and some fake but noble sounding reason to leak "important" information to the public. Some may even be shown misleading evidence and documents and stealthily nudged into becoming whistleblowers, thereby spreading deception with full conviction that they are somehow undermining their superiors when, in actuality, they are doing the opposite.

Weakness of Vector: Insiders gain increasing levels of security clearance by demonstrating a need to know, passing tests of allegiance and usability, signing secrecy oaths, giving away personal rights, and agreeing ahead of time to the punishments for breaking these oaths. Secretive networks have numerous methods for ensuring that security stays intact including monetary incentives, blackmail, threats to livelihood, hypnotic mind control, and selecting only highly manageable and obedient candidates for recruitment. Personnel are only told what they need to know to do their jobs, which often includes false but plausible stories to compel their cooperation. Compartmentalization makes it difficult for an insider to compare notes with others to detect disinformation fed to him by superiors. Despite having secret knowledge, insiders are still woefully in the dark concerning information beyond their clearance level. Compartmentalization keeps the bigger picture out of sight, and without that context insiders may not always detect disinformation in what they have already been told.

Strength of Vector: Anyone who is verifiably on the "inside" is venerated for being in so privileged and qualified a position, and for being courageous and generous enough to risk leaking precious information to the public. This bestows upon their words great credence because what they say amounts to expert witness testimony, words by those who are positioned to know. Of course this appearance of authority creates the perfect vehicle for seeding disinformation. Secrecy oaths and national security laws are also good excuses for dodging certain inconvenient questions and adding an atmosphere of intrigue.

Weakness of Audience: Compartmentalization and secrecy laws prevent the public from more thoroughly investigating insider claims by barring them from accessing evidence under wraps, documents still classified, and witnesses unwilling to risk their lives. Much of what insiders say must be taken on their credibility. If they can prove their credentials, that impresses many, but insiders are secured an influential voice if their story is also conveniently corroborated by leaked documents and intriguing photos that pander to the audience's assumptions, questions, and desperation for confirmation.

Audiences are guaranteed to be duped if they fail to rule out the possibility of the insider being a disinformer regardless of his credentials, especially if his claims are supported by forged photos and documents supplied by the well-equipped and connected network sponsoring him. The best that audiences can do is look for errors and contradictions in his claims and, more importantly, make a probabilistic assessment of his integrity based on the angle behind his claims and whom it would benefit most.

Public Official

Summary: Public officials include elected or appointed members of political and religious institutions, those with special titles and credentials who are in respected positions of leadership.

Strength of Source: Disinformers hold the great advantage of influencing through a highly visible figurehead without themselves being seen. They can be among his personal advisors, programmed or recruited associates who are planted close to him to sway his beliefs and decisions, secret organizations from which he periodically receives instructions, or alien factions abducting and programming him into adopting their goals. These sources can easily blackmail the official, exploit his naiveté, offer incentives of money and power for obedience, and tell or show him whatever "truth" shocks him into cooperating.

Weakness of Vector: The official is foremost a public figure whose loss of reputation and popular support spells the end of his career. He can therefore be threatened with character assassination, real assassination, or bribed with promises of personal and institutional advancement and protection. Being a public official can be so time-consuming that time for personal independent research and thorough contemplation is limited, which may make him dependent on advisors for condensed briefings and recommendations. This makes for reliance on potential sources of disinformation and an overall lack of discernment concerning matters beyond his expertise. His prominence as a public figure may also make him too much of a liability to be given the real truth, so he may be barred from higher security clearances unless he has an absolute need to know. Unless he has intelligence, allegiance, and power that surpass his role as public official, he is expendable.

Strength of Vector: Officials are decision-makers, opinion leaders. If their reputation is intact, their words hold sway over public opinion. They can influence public opinion to hijack democracy, advancing private agendas under the protection of majority vote. Officials can also invoke the power and reverence of the institutions they represent, like a church official declaring some political agenda as being in the will of God.

Weakness of Audience: The audience in this case is the general public, the least discerning audience of all. Typically speaking, the public has blind respect for authority, is easily impressed by credentials, and lacks the knowledge and context to properly evaluate what they are told — especially if they are told disinformation concerning fringe subjects like aliens. This is simply the fact of statistical averages. The mainstream public needs security, stability, and certainty, which authorities are obliged to provide, though not without political motivation. Should public officials reveal the existence of aliens with full sanctioning by their affiliated institutions, the shock to mass consciousness and ensuing clamor for answers would allow these officials to unload a well-received torrent of disinformation concerning alien motivations and identities.

Academic

Summary: Academics include credentialed doctors, scientists, professors, theologians, analysts, and other highly educated specialists whose research and presentations methods are formal, systematic, and sophisticated. Those involved in researching various facets of the alien phenomenon may have degrees useful to their facet of study. They typically cite other academics to boost their own credibility, drawing their conclusions by surveying the relevant literature and collating authoritative viewpoints into a generalized observation somewhat enhanced by their own original research.

Strength of Source: Since the intellectual capabilities and strategic value of an academic can be inferred without difficulty through his credentials, reputation, and publications, a broad pool of candidates may be monitored to select who is most qualified to be groomed into a disinformation vector. Academics who refuse to cooperate and become liabilities can be eliminated, either through murder or smearing of character.

Alien and military factions can also corrupt the relied-upon data pool by inserting decoy data, say through abductees programmed with screen memories that portray a false picture of alien motivations. In that case, without suspecting the possibility of deception, an academic will accept the decoy at face value and inject its contents into his works. Even if he suspects it, his suspicions cannot be voiced without risking his credibility by appearing paranoid.

Weakness of Vector: The need to preserve reputation and appear reasoned, cautious, and formal can lead to an agnostic timidity that keeps the academic from taking those creative leaps of thinking necessary to penetrate the depths of a mystery. It also discourages him from acknowledging sources of information that do not meet the standard of his peers despite containing critical pieces of the puzzle. Additionally, it is no secret that universities are as much indoctrination and filtering devices as they are educational institutions, and those who most successfully pass through that filter have demonstrated programmability and a willingness to obey the rules and pander to group consensus. Despite having a sharp intellect, the potential lack of individualism and astute intuition can make a renowned academic gullible to the grandest of deceptions, especially those endorsed by his respected peers and academic superiors.

Strength of Vector: The primary strength of an academic is his level of sophistication, in the sense of being cultured and refined. However, sophistication does not necessarily mean discernment as it could equally mean being a sophisticated rationalizer and disinformer, hence a master sophist. Further, academics are automatically endowed with credibility due to their credentials and often work in positions of influence and advisement. Credibility and sophistication together lead to effective debunking of truths and verification of lies. They can also function as role models in the fringe community, spreading an infectious attitude of myopic agnosticism to those most in need of the opposite.

Weakness of Audience: For some audiences, academics are epitomes of objectivity and respectability who are beyond reproach, especially groups of academics in agreement with each other. The most skeptical audiences will listen to academics more than other types of disinformation vectors. They may find the disinformation to be more plausible than the truth because at least it fits their unrealistic assumptions and comes from an assumedly incorruptible source. The job of an academic disinformer would be to make an intricate case for a deceptive agenda while marginalizing contrary truths as not meeting the standards of plausibility and credibility.

Abductee / Contactee

Summary: Abductees and contactees are people who have had direct contact with alien beings. Abductees are taken from their familiar surroundings and brought into the abductor environment where they undergo various procedures. Contactees have conscious participation in the interaction and become sons for their alien contacts. Not all contactees are necessarily abductees, nor are all abductees necessarily contactees, but the two categories overlap since contactees get abducted and abductees can be groomed into consciously facilitating an alien message.

Strength of Source: Abductors have direct access to the abductee in an environment they control. Various alien and military factions can create false memories, scan the mind and the body's etheric vibrational signature to analyze weaknesses and biases, use posthypnotic mind programming techniques to install subconscious commands, employ telepathic or implant-generated persuasion, monitor their subjects from afar, stage false confirmation through garish coincidences, and construct exquisite lies and rationalizations. They can also scan the population to select those who are most suitable to their aims, employing logistical and hyperdimensional advantages to give customized attention.

Weakness of Vector: The greatest weakness of an abductee or contactee is knowing less about himself than what his contacts or abductors know. They have backdoor entrances to his mind and can perform manipulations that stealthily influence his thoughts and impulses. Unless he is aware of that possibility and guards against it, it is rather inevitable.

Abductees and contactees may feel alienated from society due to having uncommon and unbelievable experiences, thus seeing themselves as different from others. If hitched to ego, this can degenerate into feelings of privilege, superiority, or specialness that serve as hook points for the abductors to compel allegiance. Their identity may become so heavily invested in being the contactee of a particular alien group that any suggestion of dishonest motivations by their alien contacts is subconsciously interpreted as an attack upon their very identity, which naturally provokes an irrational defense mechanism.

Some may simply give up, feeling overpowered by superior intelligences with superior technology, and in a psychotic attempt to salvage the situation turn into willing and zealous cooperators per Stockholm syndrome.

Strength of Vector: Real abductees and contactees exude plenty of sincerity and conviction in recounting their firsthand experiences with aliens. Their candor can be disarming to undiscerning audiences. Abductees who document their experiences may have audiovisual, medical, or testimonial evidence that they are indeed being abducted, and that alone piques people's curiosity about what they learned in the presence of real aliens.

Weakness of Audience: Like in the case of channelers, contactees can become the center of personality cults, playing the role of intermediaries between the audience and their alien idols like a prophet or pontiff intermediating between worshippers and the divine. It is the abductee and contactee's proximity and direct interaction with mysterious aliens that boosts the credibility of whatever disinformation is vectored through them.

The targeted audience consists of abductees searching for answers, researchers of the abduction phenomenon looking for inside information on alien motivations, and people wishing they themselves could be contacted by aliens. Disinformation appeals to their private longings and blind spots, taking what little they know toward false conclusions and satisfying their ego along the way.

Hypnotist

Summary: The hypnotist is trained to guide a client into achieving altered states of consciousness deep enough to access the subconscious. The hypnotic trance is one of suggestibility and dissociation. Abduction researchers commonly accept hypnosis as an investigative tool to help their subjects recover abduction memories made inaccessible by having been in an altered state of consciousness during the abduction, or by abductors installing screen memories and posthypnotic commands to forget. Hypnotized subjects can also be used for remote viewing, exploring past and future probable lives, and as passive instruments for channeling other beings.

Strength of Source: Alien and military factions can install screen memories with multiple fail-safe layers in abductees, stage misleading abduction scenarios, and jack into a hypnotized subject's mind to speak through him while he is unconscious.

Weakness of Vector: Hypnotists may be in over their heads when dealing with disinformation sources coming through their clients. If they are unaware that screen memories can lurk beneath deeper screen memories, they may only penetrate the decoy screen and accept the next one as likely truth. Same with staged abductions, where what is recalled is indeed what was experienced, but the experience itself was staged for the abductee as a diversion. Furthermore, if the hypnotized person becomes an instrument through which a disinformer can directly speak, then the hypnotist is in live contact with someone or something that can play to his weaknesses.

Strength of Vector: The information retrievable through hypnosis is fascinating, entertaining, and sometimes verifiable. This gives it wide appeal and respect in the fringe research field. It may also be used by academics as a research supplement to expand their data pool. Like in the case of channeling, because what is said cannot always be verified, disinformation can be as creative and fantastic as desired.

Weakness of Audience: Disinformation rides the assumption that what is retrieved through hypnosis, if not fabricated by the subject or induced by the hypnotist through leading questions, is very likely the truth. Again, this is the fallacy "if not subjective and false, then objective and true," which ignores the possibility of objective deception. In ordinary cases where no deceptive intentions are involved, hypnosis can indeed be reliable, but the trust and respect hypnosis earns through reliable cases should not be blindly transferred to potentially disinformative cases.

Direct Messages

Summary: Messages to the public may appear to come directly from aliens without an intermediary. This includes radio signals from space, hijacked television transmissions, crop circles, and anonymously disseminated texts written from their point of view.*

Strength of Source: Any alien or military group with sufficiently advanced technology can create crop circles, take over television signals, broadcast radio signals from space, and use anonymous human proxies to distribute carefully written messages to the world. Their abilities greatly exceed what the casual hoaxer can pull off, which they use to their advantage to make the messages seem beyond hoaxability and thus authentic.

Weakness of Audience: If the audience believes the message really comes from aliens, they will be intrigued and take the message as a sincere declaration of alien intentions. The message may take an authoritative tone, take the form of responses to messages we ourselves have sent into space, appeal to ethical memes like concerns over global warming, overpopulation, or government corruption, tantalize the intellect with feigned crypticism, or prime the audience for future deceptions by giving key future dates and prophecies. The audience must be convinced aliens are sending urgent messages to the world so that the content of the message influences their opinion about the nature of these aliens and what must be done. Disinformation sent by way of direct messages aim to distort public awareness of alien motivations and influence the audience into supporting certain actions and values that are beneficial to an agenda.

* For example, the pirate television transmission by Vrillon in 1977, the message Do You Wish That We Show Up? disseminated on the internet in 2003, and the Crabwood (August 2002) and Chilbolton (August 2001) crop formations.

Analysis

As can be seen, disinformation uses a variety of methods to target a variety of audiences:

- The general public who would prefer stability and security over disquieting truths
- Spiritual and New Age types who succumb to wishful thinking and emotionalism
- Intellectuals whose limited reasoning follows from flawed premises
- Countercultures whose fascination with the bizarre outweighs their interest in truth
- Factualists who only accept evidence fitting their subjective standards of credibility
- Political activists who would support false solutions to combat true injustices
- UFO buffs who hungrily swallow crumbs of disinformation for its sensational nature
- Abductees whose identities are invested in being liaisons between humans and aliens

Methods include:

- Appealing to blind respect for authority
- Appealing to false and limiting assumptions
- Appealing to emotional biases
- Appealing to a need for safety, security, and certainty
- Appealing to the ego's desire for identity and specialness
- Appealing to boredom through tantalizing and entertaining stories

- Appealing to skepticism to ridicule the truth
- Appealing to mental lassitude by presenting an unnecessarily simplistic picture
- Offering a false outlet for good intentions
- Using logical sleights of hand
- Forcing a choice between two equally false opposites
- Providing misleading evidence
- Staging artificial corroboration through seemingly independent sources

How can one tell if a source is peddling disinformation and not just innocently expressing a differing opinion? It is true that people can unwittingly pass on half-truths after having bought into them, but the question concerns the ultimate source of those ideas. The answer is that the intentionality behind disinformation gives its flaws a pointed direction. In other words, the flaws are too clever and directional to be unintentional, bearing the signature of crafty intelligence beneath its projected guise of innocence.

Leaderless Conspiracy

At the same time, it must be emphasized that an agenda can be carried out through seemingly opposing elements, whereby the illusion of outward disunity and independence cloaks the underlying order.

Therefore the conspiracy isn't as organized as one would think because those beneath the capstone of the pyramid of control may seemingly act on their own. They may be at odds with each other, mutually suspicious or contemptuous, independently carrying out their own agendas and acting on unique ideologies. But like swimmers drifting down a river together despite moving independently relative to each other, these vectors may oppose and cancel each other in the superficial sense while still sharing a common direction that advances the highest unseen agenda.

There is no need for coordination among lower elements of a conspiracy if a broad range of carefully designed causes initiated earlier produce cascading effects that cleverly converge at the right time. For human conspirators this would require incredible foresight, but foresight and hindsight are interchangeable for interdimensional forces operating outside linear time who have no problem scanning the timeline for the right points to target.

So while different streams of disinformation and misinformation appear to contradict each other in the details, it is their common direction and combined synergy that matter. One must examine the ultimate consequences to discern the ultimate motives. This I will do in the next part by providing and analyzing numerous examples of alien disinformation.

Discerning Alien Disinformation: Part IV

Deciphering the Core Deception

The greatest strength of disinformation is also its greatest weakness. That it can reach so many means it cannot reach everyone. Since its audience has limited intelligence and attention span, the message must be dumbed down to meet its mark. That makes it conspicuous to anyone with a more discerning eye. For a message to be so clever as to deceive even the most discerning, it would necessarily be so subtle and complex as to fly right over the heads of its intended audience. Disinformation packaged for a popular alternative radio show, for example, would capture the minds of a good majority of the audience, but it would be so simplistic that listeners in the discerning minority would roll their eyes. Good disinformation must be sufficiently sophisticated to minimize into irrelevance the discerning minority, while keeping it simple enough to appeal to the required majority.

Disinformation originates with intent to advance an agenda, so it can be reverse-engineered to reveal that agenda. By analyzing enough alien disinformation one can logically deduce the alien agenda. Alternatively, one can hypothesize what the agenda might be and then check whether different sources bearing the traits of disinformation are consistent with that hypothesis.

In my fifteen years studying the subject, what emerged was a distinct pattern of disinformation woven throughout numerous sources ranging from the academic to mystical publications. For convenience I will call this pattern the "Core Deception." It consists of half-truths split up among seemingly independent sources but sharing a common direction of persuasion. Often the same falsehoods were framed differently to appeal to certain audiences.

The "Core Deception" contains the following key elements:

- Encouraging suspension of discernment
- Misapplying spiritual principles
- Spinning the unavoidable facts
- Framing alien interference in divine light or destiny
- Threatening with consequences of not cooperating
- Enticing through promises and rewards
- Taking naive assumptions toward false conclusions
- Manipulating emotions through euphemisms and dysphemisms
- Debasing humanity
- Scapegoating corrupt human leadership
- Securing amnesty for corrupt human leadership
- Glorifying the alien image and appealing to sympathy
- Coercing individual and collective consent
- Demanding unification and integration of humans with aliens
- Limiting awareness of hyperdimensional reality
- Offering false dichotomies through role swapping

What follows is a deeper exploration of these elements. Real examples are paraphrased from the literature together with my commentary and analysis. Remember that these examples exist out there right now and are actively shaping public opinion toward holding a certain view of the alien presence. Compare the picture pushed by the Core Deception to the one being presented in this book and decide for yourself which is more comprehensive, true to experience, logical, and realistic.

Elements of the Core Deception

1. Encouraging suspension of discernment

We cannot judge aliens as bad if we ourselves have problems.

This statement portrays discernment as a hypocritical act of moral judgment, then discourages discernment by suggesting we should avoid hypocrisy by not pointing fingers in the first place. It presents a false choice between scrutinizing either aliens or humans while ignoring the other. Instead, we need to objectively examine both for problems. Maybe some human problems are related to alien ones, as when aliens are involved in unethical behavioral modification of human targets.

It would be hypocritical to cry foul about what negative aliens do to humans since humans themselves eat, abuse, and experiment upon animals.

As mentioned, the injustices committed by both humans and aliens should be brought to light, but let's keep in mind that one wrong does not justify another, nor does the elimination of one wrong eliminate another. Even if all humans were to become vegans, the purported trend of certain aliens eating humans would continue. It is not just rapists who are abducted and raped, or meat lovers who are taken and eaten, or cattle ranchers who make up the population of implanted and domesticated abductees. It is more a case of animal abuse and experimentation being a microcosmic reflection of a greater negative dynamic that certain aliens have taken to a high art. When one looks at who is committing the greater atrocities upon animals, one sees that these so-called "humans" have lost all touch with their humanity and have aligned with something subhuman or demonic, and the same can be said of aliens who do it to humans. Neither should be beyond reproach due to the actions of the other.

We should not think about negative aliens because what we focus upon, we energize and attract.

This is a misapplication of the Law of Attraction.* While we do attract what we become obsessed with or emotionally invested in, the converse is not true that we repel what we ignore. While ignoring something removes the force of attraction, it can still manifest by chance or through its own freewill. What really repels and blocks is awareness, preventive action, and intentions and requests for protection. Therefore this statement is totally backwards in advocating ignorance as the solution. Ignorance merely leaves the door wide open.

We cannot understand the motivation of aliens because they are so much more advanced than we are.

The humanoids we are dealing with are advanced but similar enough that, through diligent research, personal experience, and spiritual intelligence we can understand enough of their motivations to detect benevolence or insincerity. Those who assume limits for human understanding have failed to probe those limits themselves and therefore have no right making such claims, and even if they probed and hit a brick wall, others may still blast right through it.

We do not know enough, so we should keep it simple and stick to a black/white view.

This recommends ignorance in the name of practicality and objectivity, implying that we ought to just move forward using

* The Law of Attraction is a metaphysical principle stating that consciousness shapes probability, that what you mentally focus upon you pull into your life. This principle has been popularized in documentaries like The Secret (2006) and What the Bleep Do We Know? (2005). The mechanics of the principle arise at the quantum level whereby consciousness biases the collapse of the quantum wave function.

what we have regarding the alien presence and keep it simple. What a defeatist perspective. Instead of settling for a simplistic and erroneous picture, what should be done is to broaden the scope of research and apply some critical thinking to keep improving the accuracy of the picture.

> We cannot determine alien intentions until after working with them long enough to see what they have to offer, anything sooner is jumping to conclusions.

The more we learn about the alien presence and their possible motivations beforehand from the mountains of evidence and research already available, the more discerning and astutely perceptive we will be when it comes time for contact and negotiations. In other words, we will more quickly discern alien intentions if coming to the table prepared, perhaps quick enough to avert disastrous commitments. This statement instead encourages the postponement of judgment until long after numerous agreements and relations with alien factions have already been established, which may be too late if the alien faction in question is particularly persuasive and invasive.

> Our lack of understanding is what leads to misperceiving alien methods as being hostile. We are like scared animals resisting the help of a kind veterinarian. Aliens are here to teach us, and our irrational fear of them is what keeps us from learning.

There is a difference between a blind fear reaction to something unknown, and the discovery of alien skulduggery after years of research. Lack of understanding can just as easily lead to perceiving insincere forces as benevolent, while proper understanding can peel away the mask and reveals the deceptive dynamics beneath. There is too much research, abductee testimony, and historical evidence indicating hostile intentions among some alien factions. To rationalize them all away as mere fear reactions and misunderstandings is naive and dishonest to the extreme.

The greatest barriers produce the greatest rewards, therefore we need to move through our fear of aliens and accept our partnership with them to reap the rewards.

This is another example of passing wise prudence off as ignorant fear. While there are people who fear the unknown and thus fear all aliens inclusively, there are others who have enough awareness of negative alien factions to likewise be cautious, though with eyes open instead of closed. The challenge humanity faces is not only overcoming fear of the unknown, but lack of discernment concerning the unknown once it breaches the walls consensus reality.

To anticipate the arrival of aliens as being anything other than a positive blessing is giving into primitive fear-centers of your brain instead of the more evolved parts.

Again this tries to pass off educated cautionary perspectives as blind fear reactions. It plays on the politically correct, materialistic, self-deprecating meme that humans are more primitive than they truly are. While many humans are indeed brutish by alien standards, it is underhanded to project this upon others who are mature, aware, discerning, and have done the research, gone through the experiences, and/or incarnated with uncommon knowledge concerning the alien presence.

Focusing on negative aliens distracts us from moving forward with the majority of aliens who are positive.

Being aware of negative aliens, their characteristics, tactics, and motivations is what allows us to distinguish between genuinely positive aliens and those who merely pretend to be positive. In fact, positive alien factions may require a minimum standard of discernment in their potential contacts, and knowing how to discern between them and impostors may be the awaited proof of maturity and worthiness of contact. This doesn't mean one should become obsessed with negative potentials to the exclusion of positive, nor the other way around, rather one should strive for balance between both.

> There is no right or wrong, good or bad, when it comes to aliens because these are labels stemming from our own judgmental attitudes.

This kind of moral relativism ensures that, with zero discernment, humanity would hand the reigns of its destiny over to the first alien faction to volunteer itself as our surrogate conscience. Instead of rejecting judgment, we ought to hone it. As long as positive versus negative are defined logically, intuitively, and discerningly, valid judgments can be made without falling into the errors of emotional bias, blind dogma, or backward tradition. Since humanity will face the consequences of its decisions, it alone must make those decisions according to its highest system of standards in order to grow from the experience and preserve self-determination.

Alien factions have their own ideologies, some meeting the standards established by mankind, others not. This separates alien factions out into those who respect mankind's decisions, and those who oppose or undermine. Therefore even if all judgments were subjective and viewpoints relative, it is still the responsibility of all individuals to make distinctions between different alien motivations to see which ones are agreeable.

2. Misapplying spiritual principles

> We are all One, all fragments of God on the path to self-realization and merger with God. There can be no such thing as an alien invasion. For them to invade us is as impossible as us invading ourselves, because aliens are us, and we are them.

Creation is not just an amorphous blob of homogenous unity, but a unified diversity. Individual minds are cut from the same cloth of consciousness, but since each mind is endowed with freewill, its choices may run into conflict with the choices of others. This is what breeds competition or cooperation. A lion and gazelle may be "One" in the absolute sense, but that has no bearing on whether the lion can or cannot capture and kill the gazelle. Likewise, the freewill of hostile aliens factions and humans may be in conflict with each other, where one ultimately wins out; this neither invalidates, nor is invalidated by, the fact that both aliens and humans are manifestations of the same primordial consciousness underlying Creation.

> You are the creator of your experience, therefore you cannot be a victim, and therefore aliens cannot be abusers.

This argument hinges on an erroneous, oversimplified, and overextended picture of how individual consciousness is entangled with personal experiential reality. Quantum physics supports the idea that observed reality is shaped by the consciousness of the observer, but there are overlooked subtleties and limitations to this interaction. Even though we create our experiential reality by choosing at certain points, we do not create it completely enough to eliminate all possibility of freewill violation, abuse, or victimization. We are often overridden by the causal consequences of prior choices made by ourselves and others who are mutually entangled with our reality.

There is also a difference between consenting to risk and consenting to some particular manifestation of that risk. For example, every time you drive, you accept the risk of an accident without choosing to have an accident per se. Agreeing to face the risk of freewill violation by choosing to enter into a reality where that possibility exists does not translate into consenting to the violation when it tries to occur. So freewill violations can still take place in environments that one has freely chosen to enter.

> When we fear aliens, we are really fearing the part of ourselves that they represent, and we represent the part of themselves that they lack. Therefore we need each other as mirrors to learn and grow into our full potential.

For this argument to work, the parts of ourselves that aliens represent must be parts we fear irrationally. Then it would follow that accepting and integrating these parts toward greater psychological completion reflects over into accepting and integrating with aliens to become complete as a civilization. But what if the aliens of concern represent the psychopathic, parasitic, predatory parts of ourselves that we have good reason to overcome? Then instead of accepting both, we would need to acknowledge and overcome both, and in doing so we jettison the inner and outer dross and grow into our full potential. The question is whether to integrate or overcome, and the answer depends on the particular motives and characteristics of an alien faction and whether what they represent is healthy and progressive or entropic and dysfunctional.

> What you resist persists. The more allowance you give to aliens, the less unnecessary pain, resistance, and fear persists in the process and the more it becomes an exciting journey of joy and discovery.

It is true that resisting good and necessary experiences creates friction and pain, but the statement falsely assumes that alien abductions are good and necessary, or falsely implies that the pain and suffering associated with abductions is proof that a positive experience is being unreasonably resisted. Whether the experience is positive or negative, cooperating will indeed reduce or eliminate the suffering, but with two totally different outcomes. The first leads to genuine growth, the second to subjugation under the illusion of growth. The argument attempts to obscure this difference. The proper way to remove suffering associated with a negative experience is to end the experience. Rather than capitulating, one needs to prevail over it, especially if there is choice in the matter. If people didn't have the choice, their cooperation would not be so desperately solicited.

3. Spinning the unavoidable facts

> Most aliens are benevolent. Only a small minority of aliens are devious, but they are the ones who make the news so it falsely seems like all aliens are that way. There is only a very small renegade faction of aliens, and the rest mean us no harm.

This attempts to marginalize negative alien activities by pinning them on an insignificant minority of renegade or devious aliens with the goal of keeping the overwhelming majority free from suspicion. Rather than being the exception, however, negative alien encounters that "make the news" are only the tip of the iceberg. They are incidences that have leaked out through cracks in the wall of secrecy. While benevolent aliens exist and may number in the majority, it would be erroneous to conclude that the majority of human-alien interactions like abductions are therefore benevolent as well. The abduction program may be the characteristic modus operandi of manipulative aliens, meaning that benevolent aliens would have little or no involvement in typical alien abductions. Therefore what the public knows of aliens through abduction accounts should not be falsely credited to benevolent aliens despite them possibly being in the majority. Also, the phenomenon of cloaked aliens carrying out surreptitious monitoring, influencing, and energy harvesting shows that even if they are small in number, negative aliens can have quite a pervasive presence.

> Aliens monitor people, but only to catch up on what their human friends have been up to.

Very poor attempt to spin the widespread problem of abductees being implanted for remote monitoring and influencing purposes. The fact that it had to be spun at all indicates implantation is happening and that there is concern over people becoming suspicious of the phenomenon. Observant abductees who have implants know from personal experience that their function is not simply to monitor and record. Depending on the type, implants can also influence emotions, alter hormone production, create disorientation to interrupt forbidden lines of thinking, induce sudden drowsiness, create paralysis, manipulate dreams, simulate schizophrenia, insert thoughts, and transmit voices and images.

> If you hear reports of negative abductions, do not be alarmed because you are safe, just as you continue to be safe despite hearing of the occasional crime happening in your town.

Abductees who learn too much about the real nature of abductions become concerned, uncooperative, and suspicious of their abductors. This can be deterred if negative abductions are framed as being too distant a phenomenon to be concerned with. If the abductee believes that reports of negative abductions have no bearing on his own experiences, then he will feel safe and continue cooperating. Negative aliens are very concerned with their public image because they use it to leverage desired behaviors out of misguided targets, so whatever perception tarnishes that image must be quarantined and rendered inert.

> Some aliens, in having little understanding of emotion or individuality, may rough handle people out of sheer incompetence and lack of finesse.

That may be true in some cases, but not all negative abductions are solely characterized by painful procedures that can be explained away as the products of incompetence. Mind programming, torture, rape, and energy harvesting are not mistakes, but intentional acts.

> Greys have evolved such large heads because their society placed high emphasis on intellect. They clone because the larger heads would not fit through the birth canal. Cloning reduced variation between individuals, which is why they tend to look alike. When they moved underground to survive inhospitable surface conditions, their bodies became smaller to make better use of limited space. To compensate for the lack of natural sunlight, the pupil of their eyes evolved into eventually covering the entire eye surface.

This is an example of taking what the public assumes about Greys and incorporating it into a plausible but misleading story. The goal here is to present Greys as their own sentient civilization who suffered a cataclysm and after lengthy adaptation evolved into their current odd form. The above story is patently false; their signature black eyes are not giant pupils, but dark coverings over either a reptilian-like eye or a camera-like sensor depending on the type of Grey. If their black eyes were pupils overgrown to capture more light, the abduction environment wouldn't be so brightly lit and the light would illuminate the back of their retinas making their eyes anything but black. Rather than being a civilization unto themselves, Greys are more likely artificial entities grown in tanks to become worker drones for other aliens.

Greys need our genetics to restore what was lost through generations of cloning. Greys use probes and implants to sample our neurochemicals in hopes of simulating these themselves, so that they may once again feel emotion.

No other disinformative meme has gained more traction than this one. It seemingly justifies the entire abduction program and its harvesting of human biological materials. It paints Greys as a dying race needing our sympathy and cooperation, but they are more likely to be manufactured entities. They are disposable puppets equipped with a fabricated back-story to manipulate public perception of the alien presence. Notice how their back-story uses all the scientific buzzwords defining our modern culture without ever overstepping the boundaries of our culture. Pollution, radiation, war, evolution, genetic engineering, cloning — all entertaining, recognizable, and palatable to the public. Were the story instead to involve interdimensional biological automatons grown in time-accelerated growing tanks from recycled human and cattle parts and fluids, that would be too uncomfortable for most people.

> Mankind keeps ignoring the alien presence, driving aliens into resorting to fear tactics to cut through our ignorance and help us finally acknowledge them.

This rationalization presents negative aliens as ignored children so desperate for attention they turn delinquent. Applying child psychology to advanced aliens is naive at best, although it does serve the strategy of tugging on the heart strings since it paints aliens as innocent, desperate, suffering, and crying for attention. Cattle mutilations would be an example of this supposed delinquency. Humans give aliens no recognition, so they slice up some cows to make us take notice. Sounds fine in theory, but the parts removed during cattle mutilations are strategically selected toward extracting valuable substances and building artificial humanoids. Not to mention, if aliens wanted to catch our attention they could do better and fly low over major cities during daytime than hurting random cows.

> Isolated incidences of terrorizing abductions exist, and we must distinguish between these and the majority of abductions that are by benevolent Greys.

By now there is enough evidence of negative abductions that it can no longer be suppressed. Instead, here it is being diverted, rationalized, and spun toward preserving the agenda at all costs. Since the exact percentage of negative abductions is unknown, there is room to arbitrarily make up a percentage and have it appear that a good portion is supposedly by benevolent Greys. However, those who forward the idea of benevolent Greys fail to address the possibility of screen memories that paint over negative abductions with the illusion of positive ones. These screen memories are well within standard operating procedures for negative aliens. Without that being taken into account, it cannot be said with confidence what portion of Grey abductions are positive.

Aliens operate in stealthy ways to bypass our conscious denial of them, but operate in our world nonetheless because subconsciously we have invited them.

The implication is that they operate stealthily only to accommodate our conscious denial, while our genuine desire to invite them lays buried in the subconscious. This rationalizes away the stealthy nature of the alien presence by putting blame on humanity for being willfully ignorant of their inner spiritual longing for contact. Concerning the negative alien agenda, the statement would be more accurate if turned around: "Aliens depend on our lack of conscious awareness to operate in stealthy ways, and use our subconscious vulnerabilities as back doors to gain deeper access to our world."

Nosebleeds by abductees are simply psychosomatic reactions to buried abduction memories trying to surface.

Nosebleeds correlate with abduction activity, that much is true, but rather than admitting this is caused by brain implantation through the nose, which sounds painful and disturbing, the correlation is explained away as a psychosomatic manifestation of memories trying to break through the barrier of denial, that it's therefore a good thing that these memories are finally coming through. Well, abduction memories are suppressed by design to cover up what really happened and shelter the abductee's fragile psyche against remembering overwhelmingly frightening and traumatic experiences. These memories are not meant to surface, unless they are decoy or screen memories to inject false data into the body of abduction research literature.

Paralysis during abductions is done through remote electrical stimulation of the brain and has a positive rejuvenating side effect on the person being paralyzed.

Paralysis is another feature that cannot be dismissed because so many abductees report it, therefore it must be spun. Here the spin is that it has a therapeutic and rejuvenating effect on the body, that we should therefore look forward to getting paralyzed since it boosts our health and vitality. No comment necessary.

> When aliens show abductees traumatic visions of holocaust, death, and planetary destruction, it is merely to induce an emotional reaction and the production of neurochemicals that Greys wish to study.

The best way this can be spun is to frame it as an innocent pursuit of scientific curiosity. This simplistic explanation does not match the sophisticated, motive-driven, and self-serving nature of the alien factions involved in that kind of procedure. There are several better explanations.

The first is that the procedure is yet another form of energy harvesting through the induction of fear and terror. It does not involve tubes or needles being inserted into the brain, so it is not to harvest physical neurochemicals, but the emotional energy emitted can be tapped without need for that.

Second, it may be a form of doom programming, to indoctrinate abductees with expectation and trepidation over the plight humanity faces and to therefore make them more serious and dedicated to cooperating with aliens to supposedly help save the world.

Third, it may be an attempt toward triggering and thereby revealing hidden programs in the abductee that are a threat to the alien agenda, programs of a pre-incarnative kind either pertaining to his or her spiritual mission on earth during the end times, or missions programmed into him by competing alien factions who desire these programs to remain inactive until earth undergoes apocalyptic events. By extracting this information, aliens performing this procedure gain vital intelligence that can help them preempt the opposing agenda.

4. Framing alien interference in divine light or destiny

> It is our divine mission to work with the Greys, to allow our genetics to be infused into theirs and allow them to regain their emotional flexibility. They need this to help them merge with God. It is the spiritual and genetic union of humans and Greys that will preserve the future of both.

People defer to a greater purpose or higher power more often due to blind faith, programming, and emotionalism than reason and experience. Deep down, humans know that there is a higher purpose, but through lack of awareness such spiritual impulses are easily diverted toward anti-spiritual results. Notice here that everything but the end result is seemingly positive: regaining of emotions, divine mission, merger with God, spiritual union, preserve our future, and so on. The result of genetic union, however, is the further lock-down of the human soul matrix through the infusion of cybernetic genetics. Think of how much Greys lack freedom, individuality, self-determination, compassion, and any trace of higher spiritual traits, and how easily they are programmable and manipulable through telepathic interface, and you will see the direction in which humanity will be modified through genetic union with Greys.

5. Threatening with consequences of not cooperating

> We cannot defeat the renegade reptilians alone since they will ignore our authority and have greater technology. Thus we need outside help. Reptilians won't leave without a fight and Greys are our only hope.

If the problem were only solvable through physical battle, then humans are completely outgunned. Even so, allying with the wrong alien faction would cause further problems. The Greys don't have a good track record of honesty or sincerity and are likely Trojan horses built by the same threat. There are other factions, positive Nordic types for instance, who would make better allies, although they would probably offer nonphysical assistance instead of military intervention. Which is all right because the solution out of this mess is metaphysical more than physical. The brute physical methods of resistance are essentially futile anyway. A choice will be offered to stay in that box and ally with Greys, or step outside and align with positive transcendent forces offering a more creative approach founded on spiritually intelligent principles.

> Our earth-based technologies are insufficient to help us overcome our energy, food, and climate crises. We need alien technology to survive.

Why these technologies are not being used is not due to human incompetence or stupidity, but suppression of extraordinary talent and ingenuity by human and alien forces with vested interests in maintaining the status quo. Fringe technologies may be suppressed to build up exactly this condition of desperation in order for the suppressors to offer themselves as the solution. For example, by addicting the world to oil and preventing something as simple as the mass manufacture of efficient and affordable electric cars, an oil crises can bring the world to its knees, leaving people immobilized, starving, and desperate to give up anything including their freedom to forces that offer to ameliorate their suffering. We have the technology already, and anyone familiar with fringe science or black technology knows how carefully these are kept from the public. The inadequacies of our mainstream technology are entirely manufactured.

6. Enticing through promises and rewards

> Aliens can give you gifts of clairvoyance, healing powers, and other paranormal feats if you cooperate with them.

These powers are dangled as incentives for submission and proof of alien benevolence. After all, it would seem that being gifted with healing and psychic powers must be a good thing.

While paranormal abilities may develop during spiritual training, especially when training under the guidance of genuinely positive entities, they can also be induced or taught for strategic purposes by self-serving forces. Therefore psychic and healing powers alone say nothing about the intent toward which these are given, taught, or used. It is no loss to the alien agenda if an abductee can now heal a few people or predict their future, and it instead serves the agenda by polishing its image and encouraging others to cooperate. These are trivial trinkets given in exchange for obedience. Notice that negative alien factions, including those masquerading as positive, never gift their abductees genuine freedom, accurate awareness, or practical discernment.

Alien technology can beam earth with special energies to help enhance our intuition and interdimensional abilities.

This is another example of aliens attempting to hijack or take credit for a natural spiritual process. In occultism, there is the proper way of spiritually developing through one's own strength and initiative under the advisement of a more developed individual, and another way of cheating and gaining powers by entering into symbiosis with a self-serving individual or entity who lends that power in exchange for soul energy and servitude. The latter is the path of dark occultism or black magic. This distinction applies to alien interactions as well. Enhancement of intuition and interdimensional abilities is a natural and destined part of future human evolution, but if an alien faction can intercede in the process and pose as its sole provider, then humanity will abandon the proper path of spiritual development and follow the black path to acquire these abilities at the expense of freedom.

Aliens will help transform mankind through new technologies that are in harmony with the earth, that will banish all disease and poverty, injustice, and want.

The question is under what conditions these technologies will be provided, and toward what ends. If the technology is leased rather than taught, humans will be forced to conform to alien demands to avoid suffering the revocation of that technology. If the providers are less than sincere, this gives them powerful leverage to do with us as they please. Benevolent aliens would advance our technology only if accompanied and earned by spiritual and ethical advancement on our part. We would thereby preserve our self-determination and leave them free of having to constantly supervise us. Aliens who wish to interfere in our affairs and take control would instead use promises of technology as a bargaining chip and means of inducing addiction and dependence.

7. Taking naive assumptions toward false conclusions

> Aliens advocate peace and loving your neighbor, and that does not fit the characteristic of brainwashing. Those who advocate peace, brotherly love, generosity, altruism, and oneness are necessarily positive.

The goal of all tyranny is to impose peace and order through the annihilation of opposition, which includes the eradication of true individuality and independent thinking. Within a completed totalitarian state, ideals like peace, brotherly love, generosity, altruism, and oneness are encouraged as long as they serve the ends of the state. These are beneficial for collectivism, positive means toward negative ends. Therefore they are not necessarily proof of benevolence. Additionally, no manipulative alien would tarnish its image or show its true colors by advocating violence and hatred against neighbors; words here are not as important as actions and underlying intent. Not that these positive ideals must be avoided, rather they must be accompanied by additional qualities like discernment and independence, otherwise they become means of pacification and tranquilization.

> Aliens are not hostile because if they were, they would have wiped us out already, or could do so in a matter of minutes. No outward sign of hostility indicates benevolence.

Hostility takes more sophisticated forms than just violence. If aliens really wanted to engage in a violent takeover of earth, they wouldn't be shaping public perception through disinformation and the grooming of key opinion leaders, nor would they be engaging in abductions, mind programming, and implantation. The fact they are performing these delicate manipulations suggests their hostility is covert. Having us enslave ourselves and hand over the reins would be the most efficient and self-sustaining form of conquest. Subduing a civilization through sheer force sows the seeds of resistance in the embittered population and is logistically prohibitive, while winning their minds, hearts, and souls through psychological and spiritual warfare is the way to create a prison without walls. It is the way to create slaves who desire their servitude and suppress resistors for being enemies of progress. The agenda therefore depends heavily on disinformation, and judging by the level of disinformation out there the agenda is moving right along.

> It takes a strong connection with the Creator to manipulate spacetime, therefore any aliens here on earth capable of manipulating spacetime must be positive.

Manipulating spacetime is not that simple. First, technology alone can engineer spacetime to a great extent. Through special technology, negative beings can go quite far in manipulating spacetime. Second, negative beings can still develop a strong connection with the demiurgic aspect of Creation responsible for the material world, and through this perform seemingly magical feats. Advanced initiates and masters of dark occultism have this ability, though their alien superiors have refined it into a complete science. Third, the only advantage positive beings have is in their connection to the higher divine aspect of Creation, which is superior to the demiurgic aspect, allowing them access to a broader range of probable realities and spacetime configurations. And fourth, negative beings can still gain illegal access to this broader range of manipulations if they steal and abuse technology built and tuned by positive beings, or if they influence others with special access into doing their bidding. Therefore merely being able to manipulate spacetime is no proof of positivity.

Any race advanced enough to get here must also have outgrown its destructive tendencies.

The logic is that planetary civilizations who don't overcome their destructive ways end up destroying themselves through war and resource depletion before they ever become space faring. It takes planetary unity and a pooling of efforts to reach out and begin exploring other worlds, therefore it is assumed only civilizations that have adopted holistic and healthy ways can evolve long enough to leave their worlds and travel to earth. In truth, the positive path of enlightenment, peace, and harmony is not the only way to achieve planetary unity. Civilizations can also unite after being conquered from within by negative elements using cunning strategy, psychological warfare, infiltration, and subversion to establish a global totalitarian empire. If done carefully enough, they can do this without ever having to resort to mutually destructive physical warfare. Also, even if a benign civilization begins exploring and colonizing other worlds, it is possible that internal disagreements cause factions to split off and take their technological capabilities toward less benevolent ends. For all these reasons, space faring negative civilizations are perfectly possible.

There is a protective quarantine around earth and no aliens with ill intent can get through.

Negative alien factions do exist and are operational in the world. If there were a quarantine, it must have been put into place with negative alien factions already present on earth, sealing them in, else the quarantine is conditional and allows their entrance only under special circumstances. One way or another, saying a quarantine is preventing negative aliens from existing here simply goes against experiential evidence and research.

The rewards of cooperation with aliens far outweigh the danger of deception. We should therefore not frighten them away with displays of suspicion, but welcome them openly or else miss our chance to reap the benefits of contact.

Welcoming without discernment ensures that the risk of enslavement is greater than the potential reward for cooperation. A truly wise and benevolent alien faction would not desire that we be blindly trusting toward them before establishing relations. Nor would they be disappointed in us taking a discerning approach since if they are sincere and honorable they will pass the tests of discernment. Cooperating with less scrupulous factions leaves too much room for bait and switch tactics. Our approach should not be having to choose between total paranoia or total gullible acceptance, but discerning between forces who deserve suspicion and those who have proven their integrity.

8. Manipulating emotions through euphemisms and dysphemisms

Aliens are not intruders, but "visitors" or "guests" because we have invited them.

There is good reason to believe some aliens are indeed guests or visitors, but here these terms are being misapplied to the wrong aliens, namely the Greys and others involved in alien abductions. If one wants to choose a term other than intruder without sacrificing accuracy, the term solicitors or subverters would suffice because a large part of their efforts goes toward gaining permission, invitation, and cooperation to worm their way deeper into the targeted world. In action they are stalkers, solicitors, and manipulators rather than outright intruders, but in intention they are nothing less than intruders and interventionists. If we have invited them, it is only because we were unaware of what that entailed, and after becoming aware we would have every reason to revoke the invitation.

Saying that aliens are negative is a symptom of cultural ignorance, bigotry, and fear.

This argument hinges on a classic logical fallacy. Just because cultural ignorance, bigotry, and fear can lead to saying that aliens are negative, that does not mean saying aliens are negative is necessarily a symptom of these. It could instead be a conclusion reached through uncommon awareness, critical thinking, personal experience, and in-depth research. Of course, saying aliens are all negative with a nasty tone and resorting to stereotyping and chest beating, there is no excuse for that, but that does not mean we should claim all aliens are positive as a sign of cultural sophistication, fairness, and perceptiveness. Notice how repeatedly, one false choice is used to justify another false choice. We should instead identify various alien motivations for what they are relative to our highest standards.

Abductions by Greys should be called "temporary detainments" because they always return the abductee.

In regular abductions the abductee is usually returned, but the term "abduction" only hinges on the forced and sudden removal of a person, and not whether he or she is returned. Therefore the term "temporary detainment" is redundant and only serves as a euphemism to sedate the emotional response to the term abduction.

It should be understood that not all abductees are returned, however. Human mutilations and consumption of humans for food and biological materials is a highly taboo and underreported subject. While it does not happen to typical abductees, who are abducted for more sophisticated reasons, it does happen to those who are weak enough and in the wrong place at the wrong time. No one knows what exact percentage of missing people in the world are being taken for this purpose, not to mention all those who never even get the privilege of being reported as missing, but given the number of people who do go missing every year, permanent abductions are not only possible but have the advantage of perfect deniability if the body is never found. Each instance would then simply get dismissed as yet another unsolved case.

> Abductees should more accurately be called experiencers, communicators, interfaces, guests or contactees, because they have been invited to meet with aliens and have given permission. Abductees are not victims, but co-creators and equal participants.

This only applies to genuine cases of benevolent alien contact, which are less common than alien abductions where permission is coerced or circumvented. The latter would try to present itself as the first, and employing euphemisms in the name of political or spiritual correctness is one means toward that end.

9. Debasing humanity

> Aliens are hesitant to contact us openly since we are a violent, hostile, aggressive race. Aliens are peaceful and have non-polluting technologies, yet mankind continues to destroy the planet with wars and pollution.

Modern man as a whole is aggressive, but that isn't the only reason aliens are hesitant to make contact. Positive alien factions might see humanity as still too immature to handle open contact without destabilizing, while negative ones view our civilization as not yet sufficiently programmed to guarantee complete submission to their agenda upon first contact. Still, mass programming is quickly reaching completion so the time for contact draws near.

It should also be noted that only a subsection of the human population is violent, hostile, and aggressive by default, and that if humanity had been left free of cultural, political, religious, and psychological manipulation by elite human and negative alien forces, it would have become much more peaceful and aware by this point.

In other words, it would benefit the alien agenda to project the aberrant faults of the few upon the many, and to use the very dysfunctions it has covertly encouraged as an excuse to present itself as the superior solution. It is by placing all blame upon humanity and devaluing its self-esteem that unsavory forces can make themselves look like saints in comparison. Thus a false choice becomes attractive against an artificially denigrated one.

10. Scapegoating corrupt human leadership

> A corrupt human cabal is keeping mankind from reaping the rewards of contact with aliens. The cabal sees aliens as a threat to their control over mankind. They are behind disinformation suppressing awareness of the existence of aliens.

This assumes that all aliens are positive and the only antagonists are xenophobic human factions bent on keeping humanity under their own control. By scapegoating some human cabal as the sole problem, aliens preserve their image as being the logical solution. It would be more accurate to say that corrupt human elements have been colluding with negative alien factions to keep mankind from connecting with higher benevolent powers who support our spiritual liberation.

There may indeed be xenophobic human controllers, but they would clearly be in the minority given the sophisticated methods aliens have for mind programming and infiltration. They would also be at technological and logistical disadvantages to other human groups who have collaborated with negative alien forces or have been completely taken over by them. Only spiritually transcendent solutions can overcome negative alien control. Since xenophobic human controllers with militaristic mindsets are too integrated into the negative hierarchy to acknowledge these positive solutions, they inevitably become unwitting assets to more sophisticated negative forces. Their role is ultimately insignificant.

> Aliens have been here for thousands of years without doing any harm, but the cabal will stage an alien threat to justify building space weapons against aliens. They have also abducted people and programmed them with screen memories of negative aliens to paint aliens in a bad light.

If this were true, the cabal would be heavily involved in building widespread anti-alien sentiments in the population to prepare their minds for the staged invasion. The cabal would be grooming, supporting, funding, and publicizing high profile researchers who dish out nothing but dirt on the alien presence, ensuring that these types always get airtime while silencing the few who try to portray aliens as positive. They would use their media and entertainment contacts to inject persistent xenophobic slants to books, movies, and television documentaries on aliens. They would also be performing widespread military abductions to produce an epidemic of abductees with staged memories of horrendous alien abduction experiences, so that alien abduction research literature would be saturated with accounts of these.

What do we see instead? The complete opposite. Researchers shedding light on the darker aspects of the alien presence are the ones getting ignored and killed, while those pushing pro-alien disinformation get lifted into the limelight. Abductees who get a peek behind the curtain are marginalized for not fitting into the orthodox view of what abductions involve. Abduction accounts showing traits of being falsified also happen to be the ones consistently portraying aliens as benign. The most popular fringe books, documentaries, and movies on UFOs and aliens are slanted toward portraying them as mysterious, wonderful, and innocent. If there is a cabal, everything indicates it prefers pushing a pro-alien agenda, which can only be if they are in collusion with deceptive alien forces.

11. Securing amnesty for corrupt human leadership

Disclosure can only come about if insiders are given amnesty in exchange for revealing the truth.

A policy of amnesty that is too universal, unconditional, and forgiving would actually encourage the continuation, expansion, and completion of criminal insider activities if the culpable ones know they have nothing to worry about if in the end all will be forgiven. It would be in their best interest to encourage that kind of amnesty so that they may continue operating post-Disclosure, washed clean of their liabilities.

To even attempt to offer amnesty, it must be given not only in exchange for truth about the alien presence and suppressed technologies, but for testimony under oath against colleagues and superiors and the complete spilling of guts and handing over of classified information. Then once everyone incriminates everyone else, there should be enough truth on the table to sort out who deserves amnesty and who does not. Those found guilty, including witnesses who have violated their testimonial oaths by operating as pathological disinformants, should be prevented from acquiring any leadership roles in the post-Disclosure world. Whistle-blowers who know they are being sincere have nothing to worry about, while those thinking they can exploit amnesty and advance their covert agenda will be held accountable. It should be done in no less forgiving a manner than how Mafia and crime rings are taken down. It is not about seeking revenge against these criminals or being unspiritual and unmerciful, but safeguarding our future from psychopaths incapable of rehabilitation.

The practical reality of amnesty, however, brings into question who has the authority and ability to offer amnesty and protect the witnesses? Prior to Disclosure, no one. The black ops networks are so technologically advanced that even under 24-hour police protection (or before a live audience) a witness can be hit with an invisibly projected beam and drop dead from apparent aneurysm or heart failure. Those working for black ops projects have signed documents virtually permitting their own assassination should they ever break their secrecy oaths. The laws governing protection of classified information and national security are also beyond the jurisdiction of the conventional legal system. So it would take an authority more powerful than the entire military-industrial complex to successfully deconstruct it. The closest we could come is a "unified planetary justice coalition" that takes on delinquent governments around the world and flushes their criminal elements, but then we would contend with a world government, world military, world tribunal so powerful that it could just as easily form the global dictatorship.

After Disclosure, the spiritual thing to do is offer amnesty and forgiveness to those military and government factions involved in abuse and experimentation upon humans.

Amnesty could provide safe passage for the black ops infrastructure (covert scientific, intelligence, and military-industrial complexes) to be transitioned out of serving national security and into furthering planetary security, but as mentioned that can and will lead to a technocratic totalitarianism on a global scale if the benefactors are impostors and openly consolidate the world's control networks into a single network under their control. The current deniability and secrecy surrounding black projects ensures that modern mainstream technology remains unsophisticated. Police state technology and crowd control weapons are limited to tasers, rubber bullets, sonic weapons, water cannons, public cameras, internet monitoring, cell-dar, national ID cards, and so on. But if Disclosure reveals the extent of black project technologies (and alien technology) then, upon percolating into mainstream use, these technologies would allow the rapid proliferation of horrifying methods of police state control: tractor beams, paralyzing ray guns, cloaked security personnel in antigravity vehicles, remote thought-reading, "pre-crime" and dissent detection, and mind reprogramming. That is the fate awaiting us if amnesty is handled so naively that it plays right into the alien agenda.

12. Glorifying the alien image and appealing to sympathy

What deviant aliens need most is love and acceptance.

If anything, we can hold love and acceptance in our hearts, but as an act of tough love we must firmly block their attempts to transgress beyond their jurisdiction. This is because deviant aliens are not delinquent children unaware of the harm they cause, nor innocent victims of circumstance, rather they have highly intelligent reasons for what they do. They have chosen their path and like psychopaths view love and acceptance by others as vulnerabilities to exploit. Anyone who has personally experienced how psychopaths operate knows that they abuse kindness rather than respect it, and this scales up to the psychopaths comprising the human elite controllers and negative alien factions.

Greys are respected members of a galactic federation who have helped humans spiritually.

The "Galactic Federation" is part of New Age lore, signifying an alliance of benevolent alien races here to help humanity. An alliance or brotherhood of benevolent aliens probably exists, and perhaps some of them employ Grey drones as generic helpers, but it would be misleading to say that the Greys abducting and implanting humans are a benevolent race unto themselves who are part of this federation.

The aliens who will reveal themselves soon are the ones who created mankind.

This appeals to followers of the ancient astronaut theory and those who generally regard aliens as our superior progenitors. The question is not whether humans were genetically engineered by aliens, but whether the ones who will be claiming this for themselves are telling the truth, and even if so, whether that gives them the right to intervene in our affairs.

The Greys have technology so advanced that it's almost self-aware, showing that there can be a link or merger between technology and consciousness. They themselves are highly spiritual and have turned conscious advancement into an art > form. Their consciousness is collective yet pristine and innocent. Greys are spiritual. Instead of sexual contact they come closest to affection by holding hands in a circle and merging with The One.

Another example of overly anthropomorphizing and romanticizing the Greys. It plays upon the observation that Greys are seemingly expressionless, sexless, intellectual, and hive minded. Instead of admitting this is due to cybernetic traits and robotic functions, it is spun toward them being sophisticated, Zen-like, and fond of spiritual unity.

> Greys have an attitude of love and protection coupled with fear of their being stuck or trapped in their current evolutionary stage, and so they need our help to evolve and we should look upon them with compassion and some sadness. Greys are future descendants of humans who need our biological material to treat a degenerative medical disorder. We are approaching a point where the Greys were earlier in their evolution. Instead of destroying ourselves like they did, we must let them help us avert our demise and in turn help prevent their extinction. Hybrids are the seeds of a new race that combines the best of both humans and Greys. Hybrid babies need love from female abductees, and the Greys learn about love through their interaction. For the Greys, we represent not only their past, but their only hope for a future.

Notice the emotionally loaded language designed to appeal to sympathy, compassion, concern, hope, and love. The problem is not these virtuous feelings, but whether the premises from which they are invoked are actually true. The above explanation plays on common knowledge that Grey abductions have something to do with hybridization, medical procedures, and the harvesting of biological materials, but it weaves these into a slick story designed to target the nurturing, protective, and sympathetic instincts in the target audience. It simply tries too hard from multiple angles to be emotionally persuasive at the expense of truth.

13. Coercing individual and collective consent

Aliens cannot help us until a critical number of people demand their involvement. Aliens want global consensus, not dealing with just one country. The world as a whole should vote.

On the one hand, positive forces who respect freewill would intervene only if requested. On the other hand, negative forces who desire a fully legalized takeover would also require our consent. The difference comes down to how heavily we are pushed into giving that consent. If the faction is one that fundamentally respects freewill, then it would calmly let us make up our own mind. If the faction is less benevolent, then it would be more desperate. The underlying intention is what counts.

Also important is the procedure of consent. Can a global democratic vote suffice? Only if the voters are wise and intelligent enough to make an informed choice. By definition, only a quarter of the population is of above-average intelligence, and it takes at least that to respect reason more than emotionalism. It is thus highly unlikely that the choice will be won by those with enough information and critical thinking abilities to see through propaganda unleashed by deceptive alien factions asking for consent. Democracy would become a vehicle for tyranny. If elected or appointed officials were to make the decision instead, questions of their integrity, soundness of mind, qualification, and potential rigging of their selection must be resolved. As can be seen, the issue of planetary consent is fraught with pitfalls.

Aliens will be contacting humans personally, bypassing the national governments.

This would do away with corrupt government deciding alien-human relations, but it could also be a means of adding even greater legality to the takeover. If human governments are so self-serving and disconnected from its electorate that they simply do not represent the will of the people, then gaining consent from the government would not equal consent of earth as a whole. Maybe this is why, despite already colluding with human factions, some aliens are still feverishly programming the population into beckoning their intervention when the time comes. Not to mention, governments are multiple in number and no one country can speak for the rest, but a unified calling by people everywhere would qualify.

> Aliens cannot interact with us, or perceive us, if we do not first give them permission at some level. Therefore if they are in our lives in any way, rest assured that we have given them permission already. To resist their presence is to deny the choice already made, which is a denial made in ignorance and fear, therefore one must become aware of the choice and honor it to move from denial and fear into acceptance and understanding. Losing fear ends victimhood. You will no longer be a victim. You will be an equal participant. The quality of your interactions with them will change significantly.

Coercion of consent is not just a planetary matter, but shows up on the personal level as well. Here is an example of permission being extracted from an abductee by making him or her believe that the mere act of solicitation is proof of already having given permission. The relation between alien activity and permission given is gradual rather than clear-cut. Just as a salesman can knock on your door even if you haven't invited him or bought anything yet, so can aliens make basic approaches or covert manipulations without having been invited. If you open the door, now the salesman is allowed to make his pitch. The process is gradual and starts with getting a foot in the door.

With manipulative aliens, it is by leveraging what intrusions they can make that they can make deeper intrusions. By convincing an abductee that those little intrusions prove the abductee has made forgotten agreements that must now be honored, they have the door opened for them from the inside. The more permission is given, the more tangible the interaction. Psychological manipulation is what they have to start with, but the deeper they enter and the more willingly one aligns with them, the more physical and irreparable the damage becomes. This is true on both the personal and planetary level.

> The Reticuli are presently acquiring genetic material from volunteers who have, on a soul level, agreed to be a part of the awakening of the Earth and the birth of a new civilization.

Dubious claim, considering the other ego hooks Greys and their controllers are known to use, which often lead to delusions of grandeur and a total abandonment of discernment in gullible abductees. If abductees are made to feel special and chosen, that it is their life mission to participate in the abduction and hybridization program, they will gladly submit. No spiritual volunteerism is necessary to be identified as useful and monitored, profiled, abducted, and exploited like an animal. One becomes even more useful and manipulable if an agreement is made out of haste, desperation, curiosity, or ignorance. This is because doing so places one deeper under their jurisdiction, which rolls back the intervention of divine or positive alien forces who would otherwise step in to counter blatant freewill violations.

Soul agreements are the preferred requisite for positive alien groups, however, since they are noninterventionist by nature and work only with volunteers who have, out of their own freewill and effort, risen to a level ready for contact and service. Things get complicated when the voluntary agreement was made before incarnating and now forgotten, because negative alien groups could exploit that to claim it applies to themselves instead of the originally designated positive group, thus hijacking a person's destiny and diverting their good intentions and vague sense of mission toward furthering some self-serving alien agenda.

> When you are at your low point in life, call on the Greys and they will lift you up. When mankind is at its low point, it must call upon aliens for the help and guidance.

This is among the most dangerous of deceptions. It encourages spiritual submission to negative forces during one's lowest and most vulnerable point where they can do the most damage. It is a classic brainwashing technique where a new identity is forged from the broken shards of the old, where one is uprooted from former solid ground of logic and transplanted onto an artificial platform of new assumptions. It turns one into a reconstituted zealot for whomever does the reforming.

There is an important stage in esoteric development where the ego crashes and burns, allowing true spiritual identity to rise from the ashes, but this spiritual rebirth must be volitionally brought forth from within. Instead, here the advice is not only to call upon an external source like dialing a tow truck to get one out of a ditch, but a predatory source at that. It is in climbing to a spiritual zenith through one's own freewill that communion with higher positive forces is earned, while upon wailing helplessly in the depths of despair is when predatory negative forces find their moment of opportunity.

14. Demanding unification and integration of mankind with aliens

> Humans must form friendly relations with each other before attempting to form friendly relations with aliens. It is through global unification and integration that we can rightly reach out to aliens.

The question is unification and integration under what principles? Under the principle of harmony, wisdom, cooperation, and realization of the human potential? If so then it will take many centuries to naturally overcome cultural, religious, political, and social prejudice and division. The only way this can happen sooner within the coming decades is either a cataclysmic catalyst with profound spiritual consequences, or enforced unity through a single world government. The latter we must safeguard against by not allowing unity and integration or other virtuous sounding ideals to justify anti-individualism and totalitarianism. It is not unity itself that is important, but unity under the right principles. Unity that arises through a natural harmonization of individuals with common realizations of spiritual purpose is one thing, enforced unity through propaganda and the elimination of dissent is another.

> Hybrids symbolize a marriage between humans and aliens and represent the future of both. Arrival and disclosure of aliens represents our cosmic families coming together.

We don't need infusion of Grey genetics to evolve, rather we need the natural restoration of human DNA that was genetically crippled during the last phase of extraterrestrial modifications. This latest hybridization program is just a continuation of those previous ones, designed to further suppress the parts of us that alien controllers find threatening like individuality, intuition, feelings and discernment, and further enhance the traits they find useful like intellectual and telepathic functions.

Whatever the case, hybridization is not the best way for us to evolve. Cell biologist Dr. Bruce Lipton has shown how individual conscious awareness, perceptions, and belief affect one's DNA, allowing changes and mutations within a single lifetime through a mere realignment of consciousness.* It is through such a shift in our awareness and perceptions to a higher paranormal and spiritually exceptional level that humans will evolve the natural way. But this can be thwarted through forced genetic assimilation if the latter is accepted as a matter of destiny and necessity.

* Epigenetics is a branch of biology that studies genetic changes due to environmental factors. It is a relatively new field of research that is only now becoming a buzzword in the collective consciousness. Therefore it is an example of something that falls outside the dated meme-pool that the alien disinformation campaign has drawn from, which is why it shows a glaring hole in the false idea that hybridization is the only way to evolve mankind. For more on epigenetics, see The Biology of Belief (2008) by Dr. Bruce Lipton and The Genie in Your Genes (2007) by Dawson Church.

15. Limiting awareness of hyperdimensional reality

The more evolved Greys are ethereal in their existence, others more physical. We can only interact with the ethereal ones in altered states of consciousness because they cannot enter our physical reality.

Greys can shift between physical and ethereal states like other aliens and are not exclusively limited to either state. The ones that are strictly physical are more likely android facsimiles built by human military factions, while the strictly ethereal ones are negative thoughtforms or astral beings projecting that appearance.

Interdimensional aliens are by nature "amphibious" in the sense of being able to manifest physically, shift out of view into the local etheric environment, or shift completely into another dimension. They occupy the level of evolution between physical humans and nonphysical spirits, straddling the boundary zone between material and ethereal reality and crossing sides readily.

Also, truly higher-evolved beings who have transcended physicality are not barred from manifesting physically when they need to. Rather it is lowly etheric thoughtforms that would be barred since they are just temporary nonphysical constructs.

Greys cannot breathe our atmosphere.

The idea that Greys cannot breathe our air is used by some sources to explain why they need to hybridize themselves with us, to produce a new vehicle for themselves that can exist in our atmosphere. This is doubtful because Greys are frequently spotted in open air, whether surrounding cars during roadside abductions or entering an abductee's bedroom for a nighttime abduction, or just lingering around the apartment before and afterward. Likewise abductees can go aboard alien ships and be surrounded by Greys without either of them having to wear visible breathing apparatuses. Abductees have also reported being taken to alien worlds where they were able to go outside and breathe the air just fine.

So either Greys can breathe our atmosphere and we can breathe theirs, or Greys don't breathe at all, or their face is a mask hiding a respiratory device underneath. The same goes for Nordics, Reptilians, and Mantids — they have been seen in the physical without wearing helmeted space suits or air masks. This is probably because our humanoid forms have common evolutionary or engineered origins.

If this explanation for hybridization is to have any merit, "air" would have to be interpreted symbolically as meaning the "vibrational level" of a particular realm. In that sense, hybridization would represent a bridging between their lower vibrational realm and ours. This connects with Greys being proxies serving that purpose for routine abduction tasks, and thus hybrids would represent a self-reproducing species that extends the upward reach of lower vibrational forces. By dragging us downward through infusion of cybernetic traits, they in turn would be extended upward.

16. Offering false dichotomies through role swapping

> Reptilians here in the solar system are a negative renegade faction of their species. They are at war against the Greys, who are spiritually and technologically advanced and our only hope for defeating the Reptilians. The Greys are seen as higher spiritual beings by humanoid beings living in bases underneath the Martian surface, who need our invitation to come here as refugees from their dire conditions. The Reptilians giving us problems are only a renegade faction that doesn't represent the intentions of their entire species.

This scenario invokes the main players: Greys, Nordics, and Reptilians. It portrays Greys and Nordics as benign, Reptilians meddling in our affairs as malevolent, and the rest of Reptilians who are not here as benign as well, but if they are all part of the same faction or alliance, then this scenario would be nothing more than offering a false choice. We would be siding with one arm of the agenda against a decoy threat. If this scenario were to be followed through to its conclusion, in the end the small renegade Reptilian faction would be kicked off the planet and humans would then fall under the leadership and occupation of Greys, "good" Reptilians, and Nordics — exactly what would be desired if they were all part of the same agenda anyway.

> Greys are inquisitive beings who have degraded their gene pool through generations of cloning. They are here to create a hybrid race that can ensure the survival of both their species and ours. Small renegade factions of Greys are negative, some are just incompetent, but most are benevolent. Mantis beings are extremely ancient and wise energy beings who appear insectoid only because our subconscious interprets them that way. Earth is also influenced by a group of negative aliens responsible for cattle mutilations and Men in Black encounters. These beings are using fear tactics to prevent us from shifting into a higher dimension because such a shift threatens their existence.

Here the Mantid beings and the majority of Greys are said to be benevolent, a minority of Greys incompetent or hostile, and Men in Black evil. Yet all of these — Mantids, Greys, MIBs — are more likely part of the same overriding agenda that also includes negative Nordics and Reptilians. The mention of a "small renegade faction" or "incompetence" marginalizes through disposable bad guys what truths have leaked out concerning the real nature of the agenda.

> Greys and Nordics are two evolutionary offshoots of the human race, having time traveled here from the future. Nordics are highly spiritual, most Greys are friendly, while a small rogue faction of Greys is negative. Government is acting entirely on its own, not under any control or direction by aliens, just some treaties with them. Reports of Reptilians or Mantids are likely misperceptions on the part of abductees when they see certain pathologically disfigured Greys.

That last part is a baseless rationalization considering the level of detail involved in the abductee depictions of Reptilians and Mantids, showing them as fully distinct from Greys and healthy in their own right. This scenario goes further than others by saying that Greys and Nordics are not only benevolent but our own descendants. The anthropomorphic makeover of cybernetic Greys is a consistent part of the disinformation, and portraying them as benevolent future humans is an extreme example of that.

Ultimately, the crux of the deception here is the claim that all Nordics are highly positive beings from the future. If this were taken as gospel, then any and every Nordic alien group that presents itself to the world would be hailed as our benefactors, even if they happen to be cloned Nordics used as puppets by negative alien factions, negative Nordic overlords, or Aryan members of an underground civilization looking to migrate to the surface.

Hidden Order Behind Contradictory Scenarios

Notice that the various disinformative scenarios outwardly contradict each other, whether they come from channelers, academics, insiders, researchers, or aliens communicating through abductees and contactees. Some say all alien factions are positive, some admit a few are negative, and where one scenario draws the line between positive and negative differs from where another makes that distinction.

Obviously they cannot all be correct even though each makes a compelling case for being something other than a petty hoax. This eliminates the possibility that all aliens are positive and sincere, as there would have to be far more consistency and verifiability in what they say for that to hold true.

Some researchers have gotten exasperated with all the contradictions and concluded that aliens must simply be nonphysical pranksters playing with us, or perhaps dynamic manifestations of our collective unconscious. If only it were that simple. These explanations fail because, despite the contradictions, what these scenarios have in common is that they keep drawing from the same cast of players: Nordics, Reptilians, Mantids, Greys, and the Government. In other words, the contradictory scenarios have an underlying order pointing toward a dishonest agenda. Disinformative sources who admit to some negative factions simply take a few players and posture them against each other. This seems to be the most effective approach since it both marginalizes evidence of negative alien activities by pinning these upon a small disposable faction and offers up the other aliens of the same agenda as the solution. By portraying at least one of these as our ally, it is ensured that the agenda moves forward regardless of whom we choose.

The various scenarios also have traits of being tests aimed at different target audiences used as focus groups to help construct and refine the most successful scenario that will be presented to the whole world when the time comes. Incidentally, the scenarios are not so contradictory as to be impossible to absorb into the final revealed picture. There is enough padding within each to allow for later incorporation.

So the goal appears to hook different audiences with different stories, learn from their reactions what composite story would assure the highest rate of acceptance across the broadest spectrum of individuals, and then activate the final scenario and pull all those audiences plus the rest of the population under its influence. The next part speculates on some final scenario possibilities.

Discerning Alien Disinformation: Part V

How might the final deception scenario manifest? Since aliens are intelligent strategists, the scenario would have to meet the following conditions:

- Has the lowest risk of failure
- Is highly plausible and appealing to the public
- Plays to common weaknesses and false assumptions
- Builds on the groundwork of previous disinformation
- Uses the greatest situational leverage to force compliance
- Provides effective means of quelling resistance and chaos
- Unifies human power structures and places them under alien control
- Requires the least amount of energy and oversight by alien controllers

We can make some educated guesses by comparing disinformation with the direction of current political, social, exopolitical, and metaphysical trends. I will provide a possible scenario that would fit, though there would certainly be other possibilities even more fitting. The above conditions should hold true regardless.

Final Scenario Players

A good place to start is analyzing the main players and what role they might take given their strengths, weaknesses, and public perception.

Reptilians

Reptilians have a bad reputation. They are viewed as being too frightening, aggressive, and manipulative by too many. Even in science fiction shows they are portrayed as having a primal, violent, or fascist nature. In abduction research they are infamous for committing acts of torture and rape. Their monstrous appearance alone would induce an instinctive antipathy in most humans, who may subconsciously identify them with alligators, dinosaurs, evil serpents, or dragons. For these reasons it is highly unlikely that Reptilians will be the first alien type to present themselves as the good guys. It would create too much instinctual fear and revulsion atop the shock of Disclosure.

However, considering that reptilian-like beings have been portrayed positively in children's television shows, their introduction may happen much later once the younger generation has matured and the older reactionary generation died out or gotten accustomed to living in strange times.

Initially they would be better suited for playing the role of negative renegades to be scapegoated as the sole alien group coordinating negative abduction activities. This would build upon existing abduction accounts and fringe literature concerning a nefarious reptilian presence, and it would play to the natural aversion people have to their physiology. As mentioned earlier, one disinformative scenario claims earth has been meddled with by just such a negative rogue faction, that they are in the minority and not representative of the rest of their race who are positive.

Mantids

Mantids are less commonly reported and stranger looking than Reptilians. Therefore they are even less likely to play a visible role in the beginning. Their appearance as "bugs" would not be conducive to building rapport. They also seem to function as highly advanced interdimensional technicians who rarely transition into our lower physical dimension, therefore they would hang back and orchestrate the show from behind the curtain rather than make an appearance.

Greys

Greys are so familiar that their role in the final scenario is guaranteed. Their image is burned into our collective retina through decades of exposure through pop culture, music, fashion, entertainment, crop circles, televised documentaries, and UFO literature. Our protracted desensitization to the Grey presence has been too much of an investment to end without payoff.

Analysis of disinformation suggests they will be portrayed as a mysterious, sophisticated, computer-like, mission-oriented race. They may be presented as caretakers of humanity tasked with assisting our evolutionary advancement through a perilous time, caretakers who have managed the abduction and hybridization program toward this end. Greys will epitomize transhumanist ideals to encourage cybernetic shackling disguised as genetic and technological "enhancements." They will also exemplify a simplistic Zen-like spirituality that promotes non-discernment and submission in the name of non-dualism and integration.

Due to their strange appearance and vibe, and the diverging public opinions concerning their intentions, Greys will probably limit their exposure and remain more aloof and enigmatic at first, perhaps appearing in an ancillary manner alongside more acceptable alien groups.

Certain Greys may be scapegoated as being of negative orientation, whether said to be creations of the human shadow government to terrorize abductees, some degenerate offshoot of the same genetic line that the benevolent Greys came from, or a group that was kidnapped, cloned, and reprogrammed by negative Reptilians to do their bidding. As mentioned earlier, this would serve to marginalize evidence of truly negative abduction activities and stage a threat to which seemingly benevolent aliens represent the solution.

Nordics

Nordics are supremely suited for the task of first contact because they look similar to us, which would be a pleasant surprise to those dreading that alien contact will be with grotesque lifeforms. In abduction literature they also have the least amount of dirt on them of any reported alien race.

Their exceptional physique and beauty directly appeals to our deepest of genetic programs: physical attraction and familiarity. This would dispel xenophobia, which is normally rooted in revulsion to strangeness. For example, they would inspire reverence instead of fear, earning popular descriptive terms like "angels" or "space babes" instead of derogatory terms like "bugs" or "gators."

Nordics are the ideal superstars of the alien disinformation campaign, followed by Greys, and both may appear together to the world as they already have to abductees. However, the first Nordics to initiate galactic diplomacy will probably be negative types or clones since positive ones are noninterventionist and would not push themselves on us. Therefore only the negative factions would purposely step onto the scene first with fanfare aimed to impress. Discerning individuals would see through their lies, but the rest of humanity would be too dazzled and enthusiastic about welcoming these seeming heralds of hope, change, and enlightenment.

Unknown

It is also possible that a previously unknown alien faction will make an appearance. They could be very strange, barely humanoid, maybe plasma lifeforms having the appearance of higher dimensional beings. Since they will never have been reported in research literature, if they play a negative role in the final scenario, they could very well be artificial projections or creations. Black ops factions could easily produce such a creature using nanotechnology, holography, and other methods.

The advantage of an alien so strange, immaterial, and seemingly innocent is that it would evoke wonderment instead of fear. Humans would have no symbolic precedent like insects or alligators to associated with them, except maybe ghosts or spirits. Their role would start with a blank slate from which any story can be constructed without negation by prior abduction research or conspiracy theories. Their only giveaway would be whom they support and what action on our parts they demand; if these are in line with the negative alien agenda, then their bodily form and origins are irrelevant.

Shadow Government

Lastly, the other primary final scenario player is the "shadow government" which includes the military-industrial complex, corrupt political cabals, black ops military networks, certain secret societies, and various corporate and scientific conglomerates. While there may be internal divisions among them, overall it appears they are functionally complicit with the alien agenda. Either they have realized that they cannot beat dimensionally superior forces and have joined them in return for preservation of power through the coming times, or else they are desperate enough to try to overtly seize world power and buck the alien controllers by force, which would fail and play right into alien hands.

Whether intended or not, the shadow government is working as the construction crew for the overt alien control system. They appear responsible for the following:

- Manufacturing and installing the advanced surveillance technologies and control infrastructure needed to run a worldwide police state
- Directing decisive historical events like totalitarian legislation, wars, terrorism, assassinations, disasters, and financial collapses to move mankind ever closer toward global self-enslavement

- Acquiring maximum mind control over the population through psychoactive frequencies and subliminal broadcasts
- Manufacturing artificial humans or clones to move into influential nodes of power
- Operating remote viewing and special modeling systems to predict threats and instabilities to the system
- Abducting/programming certain citizens to create sleeper agents, agent provocateurs (including violent anti-alien survivalist types), and subdue threatening individuals
- Creating decoy abductees who are given screen memories of positive encounters with the wrong alien types
- Grooming disinformation agents, hijacking the channeling and crop circle phenomena, and creating sanctioned releases from insiders to steer public perception of the alien presence

Regardless of whether they are doing all this to advance solely their own power or are knowingly laboring for their alien masters, it is through their efforts that the control system they build will be ready for use by negative aliens and their more dependable proxies. Again, this demonstrates the efficiency by which negative aliens operate: getting the population to enslave itself before handing over control.

In the final scenario, the public role of the shadow government may be to provide some whipping boys who will be punished for crimes against humanity and conspiring to suppress human evolution. The controlled exposure and purging of corruption at "the highest levels" would play to populist anger against the elite responsible for their sufferings. For example, consider what would happen if the World Trade Center attacks were fully disclosed to the world as having been an inside job, and if numerous other corrupt activities of worldwide human leadership were exposed as well. Not only would it lead to the destruction of the old political order, but it would diminish confidence in human leadership as a whole, and that would boost support for a non-human solution to the human problem.

If carefully orchestrated, none of this purging would wipe out the functional core of the shadow government; rather it would be a change at the surface, a symbolic gesture that the old has died and the new is to begin. It would then be an opportune moment for amnesty and rehabilitation to be offered to members of the shadow government so that their tools of control can seemingly be transformed into instruments of peace. Should this happen, there is grave danger that "instruments of peace" may instead mean black ops technology rising into public use against dissenters branded as "human supremacists" and "anti-alien terrorists." If the public welcomes this move as a necessary step toward safeguarding peace and progress, then there could quickly arise a new kind of tyranny.

Final Scenario Possibilities

Alien disclosure will happen in multiple phases, that much is guaranteed. Incremental adjustments to mass consciousness keeps things stable and allows predictive models to calculate the next optimal move. The initial phase must be the most conservative of all to minimize risk and panic, but the process accelerates when the risk of failure diminishes with each successful step.

So I will now explore one possible version of the final scenario, divided into five key phases. The point is not to declare how the future will go but show the minimal level of complexity involved in a final scenario, demonstrate how easily existing trends and conditions can converge to fulfill an agenda, and point out the kinds of dangers that must be acknowledged and preempted.

Phase 1: Confirmation and Fascination

Proof of life is found beyond Earth. This could be microbes or their fossils discovered on Mars, or intelligent signals received by SETI. Scientific, religious, and philosophical debate follow about the implication that we are not alone in the universe.

The debate evolves from what it means that we are not alone in the universe to whether we are being visited by intelligent extraterrestrial beings. The UFO phenomenon becomes more plausible and receives greater public interest. Credentialed opinion leaders in UFOlogy and exopolitics step into the spotlight, sharing their information or disinformation with the world.

Phase 2: Anticipation and Organization

UFO sightings increase in boldness and frequency, answering the burgeoning question of whether aliens are visiting us. The question starts shifting toward "Why are they here?"

This leads to growing interest in what abductees and contactees have to say since they have personally interacted with aliens and have been told of their intentions. Attention will also broaden into the purported messages from aliens themselves, seemingly sent by way of crop circles, channeling, and anonymously circulated statements. Here is where the bulk of disinformation is unleashed to shape public perception of alien motivations.

Networks and institutions geared toward preparing humanity for alien disclosure and galactic diplomacy proliferate and become highly organized and influential. Governments are pressured more than ever before to disclose the truth about aliens.

Phase 3: Desperation and Confrontation

Economic, political, and environmental problems that took root during the first two phases now come to a head. Severe weather problems are blamed on manmade global warming. Disruptions to food and energy production and distribution lead to greater civil unrest. Antiestablishment sentiments escalate into rioting and acts of terrorism, which lead to checkpoints, the proliferation of citizen snitch networks, and possibly roundups and internment camps.

People start seeing the problem as originating with the evil global elite who are trying to consolidate and preserve their power through the chaos they have created. People are desperate for global regime change, for renewable technologies, for freedom and food/medical/financial security.

Positive public perception of aliens contrasts ever more sharply with negative perception of human authorities, causing a growing demand for alien intervention.

Phase 4: Revolution and Eradication

Aliens make first contact in a limited way, enough to prove they exist and communicate their intentions and demands. Mass panic is prevented by police state conditions restricting commotion and by the preceding acclimation program making this anticipated rather than feared. Aliens promise security and stability in exchange for cooperation, which will be gladly accepted.

Unprecedented disclosure follows. An end is declared to lies, deception, coverups, wars, and suffering as the antagonists are exposed and the old order crumbles. Police state instruments are retooled to keep the peace as galactic diplomacy goes on and the pro-alien movement becomes the new order.

Abductees and contactees who were groomed for the task now become the liaisons doing the heavy lifting of transforming society into conformance with the alien agenda. The process will appear democratic rather than dictatorial as change proceeds from within society through these liaisons.

The world unites. All science and religion are absorbed into a single alien paradigm. Stubborn religious and political factions refusing conformity are declared ignorant, obsolete, and dangerous. Worldwide, pro-alien fanaticism leads to the persecution of dissenters. Anyone opposing conformity to the alien agenda is lumped into the same category as anti-alien terrorists, backward religious fundamentalists, and remnants of the old order attempting to undermine the alien occupation.

Police state instruments, enhanced by black ops and alien technologies, are then turned against these non-conformers. They are routed out and converted or eliminated, all in the name of defending peace, freedom, and the future of humanity.

Phase 5: Evolution and Assimilation

Humanity moves peacefully into the future. Hybrid/indigo children take elite leadership positions as they mature. The majority of the surviving human population move into mining, industrial production, and agrarianism using leased alien technology to build and sustain the infrastructure of the new civilization.

Survival, prosperity, environmental harmony, and physical and mental perfection become the new focus. Cybernetic and genetic enhancements are welcomed to increase telepathic, telekinetic, clairvoyant, and other superhuman abilities. Alien technology and services are credited with taking humans up the evolutionary ladder.

Humans become increasingly cybernetic, psychic, and technologically sophisticated but at the price of discernment, genuine spiritual connection to the divine, independence of thought, and awareness of greater truths.

In the end, humans are fully hybridized and perfected as a more tangible, powerful, physical, and dimensionally flexible tool of negative interdimensional forces. Assimilation complete.

Foreshadowing

A scenario like this should be foreshadowed by trends active and visible right now. Several possibilities come to mind.

First is the popular 2012 phenomenon, which has been building feverish anticipation that we will soon be transitioning into an age of enlightenment. The timely arrival of aliens around that time would play to those expectations if they presented themselves as our ushers into the golden age.

Now, I do believe that we will undergo a radical shift in the coming years, but my research and intuition tells me that rather than it all being over with 2012, it is the critical window spanning several decades afterward that will determine the ultimate outcome. So if a false finish line is set up at the beginning, then the outcome can be rigged through a self-fulfilling prophecy. Just when people need to be most discerning and proactive in shaping the future, they would let their guard down by thinking they have already arrived.

Second is the crop circle phenomenon. Some crop circles are purely abstract and communicate messages on an archetypal metaphysical level. These seem like the more genuine ones. Then there are crop formations that encode literal events, dates, and messages in ways that appeal to intellectual puzzle solving. They show signs of being manmade, whether laid down by skilled ground teams or printed onto the fields by space-based directed energy weapons, which would implicate involvement of black ops groups who, as already mentioned, are complicit with the alien agenda. Some of these formations allude to the importance of the Mayan calendar and its 2012-2013 end date, others pretend to be direct messages from Greys.

Third is the phenomenon of Indigo, Crystal, Rainbow, Starseed, and Hybrid children. While some might just be kids with handicaps and delinquencies who have been given New Age euphemisms, others do seem to have advanced natures. The latter might be human-alien hybrids seeded into human families or advanced souls here to experience and catalyze the coming changes. This is not surprising considering how, according to the theory of reincarnation, souls are born into the times matching their current needs and abilities.

The problem is that these special children could be exploited as footholds and liaisons by negative alien factions. Imagine if millions of parents were told their children were of prized alien heritage, having been equipped by alien "benefactors" with special abilities and knowledge to lead the world into a new era.

What parents would reject the alien presence and thereby risk rejecting their own children? For most the choice is automatic: to accept and defend both. They may have been vetted to ensure this. Further, they would view people who are averse to the alien occupation as being potential threats to their children, and that brings out a strong defensive instinct.

As for the children themselves, at least the ones who don't know it already, finding out about their special status would be a major ego hook. What young person would refuse the power, identity, and privilege of becoming liaisons to the alien groups with whom they feel a kinship…especially after having been shunned by their "muggle" peers all their lives due to being different, or after having long felt they might have a greater purpose?

There are indeed positive souls here with a greater purpose, and many of them have suffered social isolation from being so different all their lives. Some might even be liaisons for genuinely positive alien groups who are opposed to the negative intervention. That's not the point, and these individuals should never be discriminated against just because they have special abilities or relations with aliens. The point is that young people like these, and others specifically groomed and programmed for the task, can be lured into pitching for the wrong alien faction. That's the danger here. Therefore they must become wise enough to see through the deception and ego hooks, and use their powers to defend truth, freedom of thought, and spiritual sovereignty.

Fourth trend is the percolation of the alien subject into mainstream religion. Christianity is the largest religion, followed by Islam and Hinduism, and its largest denomination is Catholicism. This makes Catholicism the largest religious denomination in the world. It stands to reason that the alien agenda would employ Catholicism to acquire easy influence over the minds of millions. Catholicism could serve as the primary vehicle of western religious reformation and assimilation by the alien agenda.

Father Gabriel Funes, director of the Vatican Observatory and Jesuit priest, has stated that aliens may exist, that believing in them does not contradict belief in God, and that since they are part of Creation they are our brothers. Another high-ranking Vatican official named Monsignor Corrado Balducci, who is a demonologist and theologian and member of the Roman Curia, went on record saying that alien contact is real, that aliens occupy the levels between humans and angels, and that none are demonic. While these were personal statements, the Vatican did not issue disclaimers or denials against them, indicating that as time goes on the Vatican will incrementally come closer to admitting these views as official policy. What will stay absent is the equally valid idea that some aliens occupy levels between humans and demons and use demonic tactics in accomplishing their ends, which includes using the Church as a means of portraying themselves as our angelic brethren.

Fifth trend is the extreme effort to pin global warming solely on humans despite evidence indicating natural solar cycles are the primary cause. These cycles depend on the variations in the combined gravitational and magnetic forces exerted upon the sun by orbiting planets. In turn, these planets are affected by the change in solar output. Humans are not the cause of observed global warming effects on Mars for instance.

Even if carbon dioxide emissions were the cause of global warming, the ones pushing this agenda are conspicuously ignoring true solutions like the proliferation of free energy technology. Instead they demand greater global government intervention, enforced energy starvation, and economic constriction of the population. Collective fear and guilt are induced over mounting weather disasters, leading to increased willingness to make unnecessary sacrifices for the sake of political correctness and planetary survival. This will create enough anger against our human leadership and guilt against ourselves for destroying the environment that aliens will seem perfectly justified in admonishing human ineptitude and offering themselves and their progressive human liaisons as the solution.

Now, this does not excuse the continuation of human environmental destruction, rather it suggests blame should go where it belongs and the proper solutions implemented. "Saving the Earth" should never become a convenient vehicle for executing nefarious political and alien agendas, but unfortunately it already has and will continue in the years ahead.

Sixth trend is the recent shift in policy toward disclosure of alien life. Television specials on UFOs are now tipping more to the believers than the skeptics when it used to be the opposite. Various governments are in the process of releasing previously secret documents and databases on UFOs, and the United States will follow under the next administration.*

What all this indicates is a shift away from coverup of the existence of aliens toward a coverup of who they are and why they are here. Skeptics are increasingly being presented as shut-eyed, and the believers and witnesses as credible and logical. It's a move from one coverup to another. Without thought given to what comes afterward, those who cheer for an end to the first coverup are sleepwalking right into the second. We can expect this trend to continue and become ever more blatant. In the end there will be full admission that aliens do exist and have been visiting us, but that they are friendly and here to help us get through some tough times. Disclosure will be partial, sanctioned, and disinformative to the extreme.

The seventh trend is the exopolitical rush toward petitioning for alien intervention, organizing citizen contact groups, and forming disclosure networks aimed at ending the UFO coverup. Their eagerness for Disclosure risks making no provisions for discerning between positive aliens and impostors. Some believe all aliens are benevolent and therefore no need exists for questioning the alien presence. Others acknowledge aliens are varied in their intentions, but limit their definition of alien hostility to physical aggression like torturing humans, downing aircrafts, and attacking military installations.

It would show lack of discernment to persistently ignore, ridicule, and rationalize away the possibility that alien hostility can come under the guise of benevolence. Bolder examples may very well be evidence of grooming and programming by those same forces. If aspects of the movement were sanctioned by dishonest alien forces, then exopolitical activism could become the ideal vehicle through which our collective freewill is handed over. With additional foresight, however, it could just as easily become an effective defender of truth, wisdom, and sovereignty.

So to fulfill its maximum potential, the movement should never underestimate the sophistication of alien deception, and instead explore how this deception could occur and construct the appropriate contingencies and standards for ensuring such deception will never succeed. They have nothing to lose and everything to gain by doing so. The solution is being both pro-Disclosure and pro-discernment.

Why Now?

Those who orchestrate the final scenario are careful, strategic, and efficient. They take the safest, slowest, and most exhaustive approach they can within the given time limits, but it appears they are now on a deadline given the speed at which the police state, global turmoil, and alien disclosure trends are progressing.

Had they another century to draw these out, they would face far less scrutiny. That they are acting desperately and multifariously indicates that something beyond their complete control is happening or imminent. They cannot prevent, delay, or accelerate it, and must instead accommodate, incorporate, and divert it like a judo fighter redirecting rather than stopping the oncoming momentum of his opponent. Why?

Reason 1: Reaching Maturity and Sustainability

If we compare modern days with those a millennium ago, it becomes clear why, from a strictly opportunistic perspective, the time for an overt alien takeover is now instead of earlier. Only now are we intellectually and technologically advanced enough to globally enslave ourselves, adopt the alien paradigm, and function as skilled and viable assets to their agenda.

If this were attempted a thousand years ago, aliens would have had a troublesome liability rather than asset to manage. They would have had to provide all the technology, education, and training themselves — a tall order considering the ignorant, crude, and fragmented state of the population back then. Why not wait (or time travel forward) several centuries, dropping catalysts along the way to speed up the advancement of civilization, until conditions were ripe?

It is not military opposition they are trying to overcome, but inertia and lack of efficiency, otherwise they would have taken over during the age of swords and bows. Inertia can only be overcome through patience and carefully implemented catalysts for growth, just as a crop must be patiently tended before ready for harvest.

Reason 2: Approaching Critical Points on the Timeline

This presents a crucial problem to alien controllers: a civilization advanced enough to efficiently work for them is advanced enough to effectively work against them, or at least slip out of their grasp. The moment of maximum efficiency is the moment of maximum risk.

Today we find ourselves in the most precarious of situations, an extraordinary bifurcation point between doom and liberation, and the tactic being employed is to disguise doom as liberation.

The future is in flux, hinging on the degree of information or disinformation forming the basis of our personal and global choices. Modern history is clustered with critical points on the timeline that would attract intervention by interdimensional or time traveling forces because these points represent windows where the future can be most efficiently influenced. It should therefore be no surprise that alien activities have increased exponentially this past century as we approach the grandest of nexus points.

Reason 3: Incoming Natural Cataclysms

Natural cyclical cataclysms further threaten to destabilize the control system. Possibilities include extreme solar flares, mass volcanic eruptions and earthquakes, super-storms, cometary bombardments, magnetic pole shift, physical pole shift, and the onset of a new ice age. For thousands of years humanity has remained mostly free of these threats, but the cycles appear to all be converging during the coming decades. We are already seeing disruptions to the food supply due to diseases, droughts, and floods ruining crops simultaneously worldwide.

The control system cannot survive intact without adapting to these disruptions. Adaptation means increasing the level of control, like a farmer rounding up his livestock in preparation of a severe storm and confining them to the barn. As a matter of efficiency, the control system goes one step further by exploiting early threats, whether real or manufactured, to gain the control needed to survive the later threats. Example: global warming is largely the result of natural solar system cycles, but by instead blaming human carbon emissions as the sole cause, the control system can lower the standard of living and deprecate the self-esteem of humanity so that, desperate and demoralized, humans are more willing to hand their sovereignty over to seemingly wiser authorities. The authorities then have the necessary means of tying down their human livestock.

Reason 4: Burgeoning Phenomenon of Human Spiritual Transcendence

The physical reasons above should make a decent case why the alien agenda is moving forward so quickly at this time. I believe there are metaphysical reasons as well, which despite seeming more speculative are still personally verifiable.

The primary metaphysical reason is that portions of humanity are moving toward spiritual transcendence, toward acquiring the spiritual awareness and interdimensional abilities needed to overcome the control system. This is not just the result of human spiritual evolution increasing the need for a more expansive state of existence, it is also the manifestation of divine intervention during difficult times accelerating the spiritual empowerment of individuals who choose to participate in the process.

We are dynamic beings capable of personal spiritual growth, so there is no reason why we cannot achieve transcendence in greater numbers given enough time and opportunity. Interdimensional alien civilizations were not always at that level, meaning they once occupied a more limited existence like our own before transitioning. If they can do it, so can we.

Already throughout history there have existed transcendent humans working as the great spiritual masters and teachers of the ages, and while they were the exceptions for their times, their message has been that we can and will achieve equal or greater.

For this to occur on a wider level, all it would take is a synchronization of conditions and catalysts working internally and externally upon us to facilitate our spiritual awakening, liberation, and empowerment. Those who are receptive to this influence would rise up and polarize away from the rest who are more predisposed toward willful ignorance and entropy. (Note that this polarization phenomenon has nothing to do with moral judgments, rather it follows from the natural dissonance that arises between individuals who are treading incompatible life paths.)

Taken to its logical conclusion, the polarization phenomenon would lead to a transformation of the world as we know it and the bifurcation of consensus reality into mutually exclusive realms of existence. All this dovetails with 2012 studies, Biblical eschatology, Native American prophecies, Scandinavian mythology, Sanskrit cosmology, and channeling, contactee, or abductee accounts concerning the imminent fate of humanity.

So it appears that, apart from the converging physical factors mentioned earlier, there are several nonphysical factors coming together as well:

- The spiritual maturation of a portion of the human population and their readiness to graduate from this limited mode of existence.
- The implementation of a divine plan to augment the process and combat the grave imbalances created by the alien control system.
- As discussed in my article, The Physics of 2012, the irradiation of our solar system by a traveling event horizon or wave of hyperdimensional energy. This would serve to loosen the gravitational binding of consensus reality and allow easier graduation or bifurcation onto interdimensional realms of existence.

Preservation of Hyperdimensional Control

Assuming dimensional transcendence is a real possibility for us, how might alien controllers preserve their power in the face of it? Through the alien agenda now being implemented. They would achieve this by first winning our willful submission to their authority, then locking that submission into place through dependence, addiction, spiritual sterilization, and cybernetic assimilation.

Keep in mind that human transcendence does not guarantee being fully in the clear. Rather it means a leveling of the playing field more so than retirement from the game. Instead of aliens having exclusive access to the backstage of our reality, hidden from view and inaccessible to our reach or perception, our transcendence would mean removal of the curtain and being able to see and interact with them more directly.

This could be another reason why aliens are shifting toward overt instead of covert control: it may soon be impossible for them to maintain the privilege of invisibility if more of us gain greater clairvoyance and dimensional mobility. If their revealing is inevitable, they must preemptively condition us to view their presence in a positive light.

Another problem we face is that if, like moving up grade levels in school, no knowledge of the next stage is necessary to graduate from the existing one, there will be throngs of graduates who are absolutely clueless about the interdimensional alien agenda and the subtleties of the new existence. And even if there were no "dimensional shift" it would still be the most flexible, progressive, and helpful people who make it through the coming times.

These well intentioned but potentially undiscerning (concerning alien or hyperdimensional matters) people are the ones most easily ensnared by the alien deception. They are also the most valuable because they would statistically comprise the bulk of transitioners. It could be said that the future of humanity hinges on their choice of alignment. The alien disinformation campaign is already heavily targeting them: exopolitical activists, New Agers, progressive religious people, special children, contactees and abductees, fringe researchers, truth seekers, and others who are more receptive to selfless causes and novel ideas than the mainstream. These are precisely the ones who would make it to the next level without always having the foresight needed to avoid the pitfalls afterward.

What is happening now has all the characteristics of a timewar waged between interdimensional time traveling forces. The goal of any timewar is preservation, reinforcement, and expansion of the probable future or reality of origin. The more souls are aggregated onto a particular timeline, the more stability and power is given to that timeline over others. Moving the human soul collective onto a negative timeline requires a collective choice. Thus, we have the disinformation program and the temporal manipulation of history and genetics to bias this choice heavily toward one favoring the negative timeline.

I have delayed discussion of positive forces because the nature of negative aliens must be understood first. So in the sixth and final part, I will discuss to the best of my knowledge who they are, what they are like, how to distinguish them from impostors, and provide some tips on positive solutions to the issues raised in this book.

Discerning Alien Disinformation: Part VI

In preceding parts I focused on negative aliens to emphasize the prevalence, sophistication, and subtlety of their control methods. They can advance hostile agendas without necessarily being violent or frightening in appearance. Instead they maximize their appeal to build up false perceptions and beliefs in their targets so that, unable to make fully informed decisions, their targets naively and willfully choose to relinquish sovereignty.

We can distinguish between positive aliens and impostors by knowing more about what each are truly like. What unique traits must aliens demonstrate in word, action, and consequence to qualify as truly benevolent? We are looking for key characteristics of positive aliens that cannot be imitated by negative impostors, at least not without shortchanging their own agenda. Our standards must be set neither so low that impostors falsely qualify, nor so unrealistically high that benevolent groups with innocent shortcomings fail to qualify at all.

In this final part I will share my tentative conclusions on the nature and motivation of positive aliens.

What Does Positive Mean?

Contrary to stereotypes engendered by the New Age movement, the positive spiritual path is not about being meek, simple, and blissful to the point of becoming passive and ignorant of life's problems. People who adopt this attitude end up disconnected from reality and eventually face a rude awakening. Real spirituality has to be practical yet transcendent, true to both physical reality and metaphysical reality, rooted in experience yet vivified by divine inspiration. It must acknowledge the limitations of one's current state of existence, yet allow advancement beyond that existence by opening the door to influences from an even higher level of existence.

It cannot be otherwise. An alien civilization mired in blissful denial, wishful thinking, and undiscerning acceptance would crumble under its own folly or be preyed upon by deceivers in the same way that amiable but blindly trusting people get taken in by charlatans.

The genuine positive path is one of strength, practicality, discernment, understanding, balance, and gnosis. Gnosis is higher spiritual intelligence, manifesting in its lowest form as objective intuition.* It allows for inner revelation of profound insights and direct recognition of truths buried in external sources of information. It supersedes both intellect and lower emotions and thereby stays invulnerable to disinformation, emotional manipulation and logical fallacies. This ability to intuitively or clairvoyantly tap into higher understanding is the main catalyst for spiritual evolution because it guides one toward truth and alerts one to deception and error.

The positive path results in the fulfillment of individual potential, making one all the more effective on both the physical and metaphysical planes. It optimizes one's ability to serve the spiritual well-being and evolution of others and thereby facilitate the divine purpose of Creation.

"Positive" and "negative" are not mere subjective terms, rather they follow directly and logically from some fundamental facts of our existence:

- Humans and aliens are conscious beings with freewill.
- Freewill leads to independence and individuality.

* Higher spiritual intelligence, in context of the alien impostor agenda, is discussed extensively in the works of Marshall Vian Summers: http://newmessage.org/books

- Individuals interact with themselves, the world, and each other.
- Interaction between individuals modifies their consciousness.
- Freewill determines whether the modification is growth or suppression.

Since freewill allows the choice between assisting or suppressing the consciousness and freewill of others, there are consequently:

- Beings who serve the entire system by expanding their consciousness and freewill in balance with the expansion of consciousness and freewill in others.
- Beings who serve only themselves at the cost of suppressing the freewill and consciousness of others to the detriment of the entire system.

This essentially defines the positive and negative paths. The positive path preserves balance by maximizing freewill in the system, the other creates imbalance by diminishing the freewill of others through force, deception, and assimilation; the first advances self by also advancing others, the second advances self at the detriment of others.

The only reason the negative path can continue to exist at all without immediate entropic disintegration is because it functions as a parasitic Ponzi scheme where a hierarchy of predators depends on perpetual influx of recruits and resources to keep from starving and imploding. Earth has become the recruitment and feeding grounds for at least one such hierarchy.

How universal is the positive path? Can it be followed by various types of alien beings regardless of their physiology? What about feelings like love and compassion? Can a reptilian whose physiology lacks the neurotransmitters for positive mammalian emotions follow the positive path? Of course.

Conscious beings are more than their bodies; they are immortal sparks of consciousness inhabiting temporary bodies. Truth, understanding, discernment, wisdom, and higher spiritual intelligence are virtues of consciousness that transcend biology. Likewise, pure love, which is the impulse to safeguard and advance consciousness, is also universal. Perhaps a mammalian physiology expresses pure love more through a sense of compassion, empathy, and personal caring, whereas a reptilian physiology might express it more through a sense of duty, honor, and necessity. Both are accompanied by a sense of understanding, and both assist the advancement of consciousness in those loved.

Positivity is defined here strictly on a metaphysical basis. All its requisites are properties originating with consciousness, or to be more accurate, with spirit, which is the transcendent spark of consciousness residing at the core of being. As long as a being is conscious, individualized, has freewill, and interacts with others, the positive path is open to exploration.

Considerations

In defining what constitutes a positive alien, there are some things to keep in mind. First is that not all positive groups are identical; they may have different missions, appearances, cultures of origin, levels of development, functional relation to humanity, and means of achieving their goals.

They vary in development from what humanity could achieve after several thousand years of further spiritual and technological advancement, to beings who have completely transcended space and time, who no longer have use for vehicles, bodies, or even personalized individualities in some cases. Stated another way, the spectrum of positive aliens spans from extraterrestrial to ultraterrestrial.

Between these two extremes are those who have transcended linear time but can still occupy bodies, employ technology, and travel in vehicles. They are the positive analogs of the negative hyperdimensional entities discussed in earlier parts of this book.

While they are not always bounded by linear time and three dimensional space, neither do they operate exclusively within the higher immaterial realms of existence. Functionally, they are neither strictly ultraterrestrials nor extraterrestrials, but flip between these states as necessary. Perhaps the term "ambiterrestrial" is needed to distinguish them.

The spectrum of positive aliens may be divided into something like the following:

Pure Ultraterrestrials: These exclusively immaterial beings are not involved in abductions or UFO sightings, but are impersonal archetypal intelligences functioning more like oracles, guides, and divine emissaries of the highest caliber. Terms like "angels" and "archangels" are approximations of these beings. They are largely absent from UFO literature, but are mentioned in certain channeled, religious, and spiritual texts.*

Upper Ambiterrestrials: Stay primarily in an immaterial, hyperdimensional state of pure consciousness beyond spacetime, but materialize bodies and vehicles as needed. They carry out functions as councilors, teachers, administrators, supervisors, and other leadership positions. Their focus is more on metaphysical matters, giving directives and instructions to lower ambiterrestrials based on their higher understanding and broader perspectives.

Middle Ambiterrestrials: Straddle the boundary between immaterial and material states of existence. They can temporarily materialize physical bodies and three dimensional physical ships into our world that can be touched, studied, and reverse engineered by humans, even though their bodies and ships dematerialize upon reverting to hyperdimensional form. They can directly project themselves into our reality with ease. Claims of positive aliens walking among us pretending to be human, but who are observers and servants of a divine cause, may be of this category. Their focus is equally divided between spiritual and technical matters.

*Examples include the "sixth density social memory complexes" mentioned by the Ra Material and Cassiopaean Transcripts, the "Unseen Ones" mentioned in the Allies of Humanity books, the INSPEC being mentioned in Far Journeys by Robert Monroe, "Seth Two" channelled by Jane Roberts, aeons of the Gnostics, and the angelic hierarchies delineated in various religions.

Lower Ambiterrestrials: Stay primarily in material form but are slightly shifted beyond our perceptions. They could be time travelers from the future or denizens of a parallel physical plane or parallel timeline. They are completely tangible to each other in their native environment. If we were shifted into their environment, we would interact with them in a physical way. Same if they shifted fully into ours, which they can do, but apparently not as easily as the more advanced positive aliens. Their native realm is a state of shifted spacetime, which differs from complete dematerialization and exit from spacetime. Instead of consciously projecting a temporary ship into our reality, they would more likely shift an already existing one into ours. Relative to higher ambiterrestrials, they are more preoccupied with scientific, strategic, and diplomatic matters, though not without spiritual and ethical considerations.

Pure Extraterrestrials: These types are completely physical and appear to only visit earth sporadically in small numbers. Given their physical limitations and resource restrictions, they would be prevented from traveling to earth in large numbers without being detected and preyed upon by more advanced negative alien factions. Being of positive orientation without having yet transcended physicality implies a certain naïveté and fragility that reduces survival since, in physical environments, competition over finite resources is the default mode of existence. Therefore, positive extraterrestrials would be fewer and more discreet due to their heightened vulnerability.

Logic suggests a similar spectrum exists for negative alien beings: demonic ultraterrestrials at the top, space-faring physical beings at the bottom, and negative hyperdimensional aliens (negative ambiterrestrials) between those two extremes.

The relation between these two spectra may be represented as a sideways "Y" branching to the right, one path going up, the other going down. The paths are closer to each other near the branching point, diverging farther away. Those nearest to the branching point, meaning lowest on the spectrum, are the ones most likely to share common traits and directly interact with each other, either in conflict or cooperation. This is because they are less polarized along their respective paths and more entrenched in physicality. Physicality is a consensual reality that forces mutual causal interaction. So one might find lower positive and lower negative ambiterrestrials either in direct physical conflict with each other or, under rare and forced circumstances, working together if doing so allows achievement of independent aims.

Unlike negative alien societies, which are founded on competition, power, and deception and thus highly compartmentalized, positive alien societies are more harmonious, integrated, and unified with each other. This does not imply a hive-like collective consciousness where individuality is suppressed, but rather a harmonization of spiritually developed individuals into mutually resonant networks. In this network, a balance exists between individual development and societal cohesion, the latter arising from the spiritual basis of the first.

Those who connect with higher spiritual intelligence connect to the same divine source and therefore share a spiritual rapport and understanding with others who are also connected. This naturally leads to a brotherhood of sorts, born not out of programming or forced imposition by external authority, but of common basic understanding and shared love of truth, freedom, and balance. Nor should this be confused with sectarian religious aspirations, which in mixing dogma with personal bias lead to infighting and religious wars. True spirituality springs from a common source and leads to harmony and unity, whereas subjective belief systems accomplish the opposite.

Another point of consideration is that societal evolution and individual spiritual evolution are separate processes. Humanity may have progressed politically, technologically, and economically over the past several thousand years, but this does not mean the average human individual has correspondingly evolved. Vices like greed, ignorance, selfishness, hubris, jealousy, and wrath are as prevalent today as they were in ancient times. What seems like an advanced society may therefore be composed of unethical and spiritually unsophisticated individuals, kept in line only through sophisticated control systems, which would make it far from positive. So the outward appearance of peace, order, and scientific advancement of an alien group is not necessarily proof of underlying positivity because these could just as well mask underlying individual spiritual atrophy.

Spiritual evolution is not just about studying and following religious morals or philosophical ethics, which amounts to programming by external sources, but rather maturing in soul so that the intrinsic wisdom, discernment, and conscience developed in one life continue into the next. Only if the distillation of higher spiritual intelligence is already present at birth, operates actively throughout life by guiding personal decisions and perspectives, and is built upon in successive incarnations, can that be called spiritual evolution. And only if a society consists of spiritually evolved individuals can it be called genuinely positive.

Individual evolution knows no bounds and may progress quicker than societal evolution. A single dedicated individual given proper esoteric training could accomplish in a few lifetimes what would take humanity, as a whole, thousands of years to reach. The difference between human civilization and positive aliens is this: what spiritual heights humans must achieve individually in defiance of the rest of society, positive aliens have achieved society-wide. The average human is therefore less advanced than the average ambiterrestrial, and so it may be said that ambiterrestrials are further up the evolutionary ladder than man.

On the other hand, some humans may be more advanced than some aliens. Consider certain esoteric masters who had profound impacts upon human spiritual awareness. Maybe they were native humans who rose far beyond the norm, or maybe some were upper ambiterrestrials who volunteered to incarnate into human society to contribute toward its upliftment. There could even exist a human spiritual brotherhood dedicated to our upliftment that is of a higher order of spiritual development than, say, a lower ambiterrestrial group that is more focused on dealing with the negative alien agenda, although both ultimately are part of the same divine network whether they know each other or not.

All this goes to show that the line between humans and aliens is blurred at the scale of the individual and gradated at the scale of society, so that what they can do widely by default, we can do individually as exceptions to our kind and will do society-wide after further spiritual evolution. So humanity should neither be denigrated, nor positive aliens deified, on the false assumption that the latter are universally superior to the first, because there are exceptions.

Exceptions likewise exist for aliens. Since individual development allows for some to be more highly evolved than others, then despite their unity, within a single positive alien civilization there could exist greater and lesser advanced aliens; both upper and lower ambiterrestrials working together, for example. It would be an error to assume that one alien civilization is exclusively lower ambiterrestrial while another is exclusively ultraterrestrial, since within each there will be exceptions. The average level of development is what differs between civilizations, and in that sense several positive civilizations may collaborate, some averaging closer to ultraterrestrial, the other closer to extraterrestrial, with the latter frequently deferring to the wisdom and guidance of the former.

Characteristics of Positive Humanoid Aliens

What are positive humanoid aliens like? We can estimate the answer through: 1) abductee and contactee accounts, keeping in mind the possibility of fabrication, embellishment, and impostors; 2) esoteric, mythological, and religious texts where mention is made of non-human benefactors; 3) personal experiences through dreams, astral projection, abductions, and real world physical contact. From these areas I have derived the following approximation:

Their verbal and telepathic communications resound with truth and show great sobriety and depth of understanding, but they also have the humility, foresight, and consideration to simplify their communication and underplay their intelligence so as not to impose or intimidate. Therefore they may come across as reserved and careful to measure their words. In general, they are mindful of their influence and refrain from shortchanging our learning opportunities with prematurely provided answers. They are good at encrypting deeper truths into what they say, truths that reveal themselves only in hindsight when one has finally matured enough to understand them, yet they are equally talented at packing much meaning into few words and saying the right thing at the right time to make a catalytic and destined difference.

We can recognize in them a strong degree of sentience, lucidity, earnestness, intelligence, and wisdom, at least relative to ourselves. There is a misconception that higher positive beings are less than fully aware and alert, that being enlightened means they exist in a state of tranquilized bliss as though sedated and dishing out fluffy platitudes and fortune cookie aphorisms. Real positive beings have higher awareness, not truncated awareness. They are not blind to reality or numbed from acknowledging what we consider to be uncomfortable truths, but can see these clearly in their higher context and are very matter-of-fact about it all.

They possess love, empathy, and compassion but not at the expense of reason, wisdom, and understanding. Rather these two sides (higher emotional and higher intellectual) are fused into harmony and balance. Love without understanding leads to sentimentalism and gullibility, while understanding without love can lead to cold intellectualism and cruelty. Higher positive aliens, in having reached a certain level of spiritual development, suffer from neither defect. Balanced esoteric development systems bring human individuals to the same level of warmth and understanding.

Impostors can induce a counterfeit sense of warmth in their targets that restricts awareness by making them think the impostor must be a positive being radiating good vibes. However, these seemingly positive emotions are merely induced chemical or hormonal responses that cloud judgment instead of sharpening it. The genuine ones have a warmth that can be sensed without oneself necessarily being flooded with feelings, just as one can sense the heat of a fire without oneself being on fire; the impostors, however, figuratively "set one on fire" with induced emotions so that despite their cold hearts one might mistakenly project that warmth upon them. Impostors produce an effect that is suppressive of awareness rather than supportive. Real positive beings have the ultimate effect of making you more of who you truly are, elevating your perspective and clarity, whereas the impostors prune your awareness down to manageable size. There is always a sense of being entranced, numbed, hypnotized, or submerged when dealing with the impostor positives.

Positive beings, particularly the middle ambiterrestrials and above, never appeal to your baser instincts or use ego hooks to coerce cooperation. Instead they speak more to your higher reasoning and intuition. They don't dangle gifts or privileges to get you to act against your better judgment, but may send unexpected compensation for having followed your better judgment during trying circumstances. They don't try to impress with fancy titles, useless technical jargon intended to confound, or detailed yet superfluous trivia. Instead they take a practical and minimalist approach by sticking to what matters. Sometimes they are hesitant to speak much about their identity or origins, since it could lead to many problems including personality worship and the compromising of their safety, the latter being a greater issue for lower ambiterrestrials due to their physicality.

While higher positive beings are more spiritually developed and refined than we currently are, they are not perfect by any means. The closer they are to our level of development, meaning the lesser their standing among the order of higher positive beings, the more prone they are to acting on incomplete information, making naive assumptions, and misplacing their trust. Freewill leaves the future open within certain limits, so there is room for error. The lower the ambiterrestrial, the more limited their future sight. These errors are of a metaphysical order and cannot be placed on equal footing as the procedural mistakes made by seemingly innocent aliens, said by disinformative sources to account for the rough handling of abductees. They are metaphysical mistakes with metaphysical consequences, whereas the latter are physical mistakes with physical consequences.

This is one example of how positive and negative beings differ, in that the negative aliens are more partial toward physicality while the positive place greater emphasis on spirituality. Positive beings concern themselves more with liberation and perfection of the soul, preservation of freewill, proliferation of knowledge and wisdom, and other transcendental ideals, while negative aliens are more concerned with harvesting resources, genetic manipulations, and preservation of their livestock. This does not mean positive aliens are disdainful of physicality, indifferent to environmentalism, or immune to the necessity of technology, rather they simply know better than to invert their values and sacrifice the higher for the lower.

Ambiterrestrial Technology

Technology is needed to accomplish what consciousness alone cannot. Positive aliens only use it to the degree that they are corporeal (physical and/or etheric). Higher ambiterrestrials use less technology to accomplish the same things because they are less tethered to physicality and have greater conscious command over it.

The purely materialistic technology familiar to us can only develop so far before it hits the quantum threshold and the limits of determinism. Beyond that point it must become sub-quantum and ultra-relativistic, incorporating interdimensional and metaphysical factors to develop further. This describes lower ambiterrestrial technology, which allows for engineering of spacetime, dimensional rotation, traveling through time, modifying etheric energies, and interfacing consciousness directly with crafts and devices.

All that can be done by middle and upper ambiterrestrial technology as well, except they have taken the merger between consciousness and technology to an even higher art. It appears their technology is entirely malleable to consciousness, and thus fundamentally alchemical in nature. It looks and functions like technology but is actually a physical embodiment or etheric precipitation of thoughts, intent, and spiritual archetypes. The relation among its tangible parts mirrors the relation among its higher metaphysical components.*

The main difference between negative and positive ambiterrestrial technology is the multidimensional reality spectrum each can access, which is broader for the positive due to their more

* See The Secret of the Saucers (Angelucci, 1955) for an account of the spiritual and alchemical nature of higher ambiterrestrial technology. Alchemy and sacred architecture both mirror higher reality, the first with respect to sequence and substance, the second regarding geometry and proportion. Higher positive ambiterrestrials may harmonize the tangible with the intangible elements of their technology in the hermetic fashion of "As above, so below." They might even be the inspirers of alchemy, sacred architecture, and hermeticism.

balanced and holistic quality of consciousness resonating deeper with the divine root of Creation. Negative ambiterrestrials, in being barred from accessing that root, have to resort to cunning, stalking, luring, hacking, stealing, and exploitation of loopholes to get their way.

Distinguishing Between Positive and Negative Forces

Positive and negative ambiterrestrials have unique and shared traits. Compiling a list of the unique traits will help us identify the orientation of a particular alien faction, while a list of shared traits would show what cannot be exclusively relied upon to make that determination. This is useful because impostors use shared traits to "prove" their positive orientation and sugarcoat their uniquely negative traits.

So what follows is a list of shared, uniquely negative, and uniquely positive traits. Not all positive types will have all the positive traits, but they all should lack the uniquely negative traits. Likewise, not all negative types will have all the listed negative traits, but they all should lack the uniquely positive traits. This list should only be used as a guideline for further contemplation and improvement, and not as a rigid checklist to apply in a perfunctory fashion. The distinction between positive and negative forces must be made out of genuine understanding, intuition, and experience, in consideration of the circumstances and performed on a case-by-case basis.

Shared Traits

Either may respect freewill, stepping in only when asked. The difference is that positive aliens respect it fully and demand it be an informed and sincere choice, while negative aliens only respect freewill as something to covertly manipulate into granting them permission and legalizing their subsequent takeover. Both might ask us for permission before opening full contact, both may encourage us to carry ourselves instead of becoming dependent on them. The difference is that negative aliens would preprogram the population into making the desired choice and position opinion leaders within society to covertly steer progress in their favor.

Either may voice environmental concerns for Earth. Negative aliens have a vested interest in saving the planet for themselves: they may desire Earth as breeding grounds, staging grounds for further conquests, and for the harvesting its natural resources. For modern culture it is politically correct to champion environmentalism, and the idea of living in harmony with the earth has an air of spirituality to it. Advocating these ideals is not at all in conflict with a negative alien agenda, as it would polish their image and increase the sustainability and efficiency of their "farm" if human "livestock" have been instilled with enough reverence for the farmland to maintain it themselves. So aliens espousing environmental concerns and choosing humans to be caretakers of the earth is not necessarily proof of positivity, though neither is it exclusive proof of negativity since respect for the environment is good and necessary regardless. It seems to be a lower priority for positive aliens, perhaps because they understand the ephemeral and illusory nature of physicality in contrast to the greater reality and immortality of the soul, or maybe they are simply aware that natural and cosmic cycles have caused far greater damage to Earth than humans could ever inflict.

Either might provide advanced technology to help with energy and food production, transportation, medical needs, and other necessities. Negative aliens would use this as a false sign of goodwill and provide nothing they couldn't easily disable, revoke, or overcome if things turn sour; their gift of technology may also be used as a bargaining chip and Trojan horse. Both would more freely provide it on a smaller scale to their trained human contacts to ensure their survival through difficult times. Positive aliens would be more reserved about offering their own technology, especially considering the suppressed human inventions already in existence that only need freedom to proliferate.

Either may advocate peace, nonviolence, social harmony, and unity. For negative aliens, besides improving their image by contradicting the expectations of violent alien hostility, these ideals preserve order, efficiency, and docility within their controlled population and thereby help disable dissent and independent thinking. Enemies (those resisting assimilation) need merely be branded as enemies of peace, harmony, and unity to allow justification of their persecution, including violent persecution in the defense of these ideals. Their unity and harmony is enforced from the outside and crushes the soul inward, whereas for positive aliens unity and harmony are the outward consequence of people awakening to a common understanding through independent spiritual development.

Both prioritize ends over means, especially lower ambiterrestrials with dedicated missions who are more entrenched within physicality, linear time, and therefore causality. What matters to them is the big picture and long-term outcome. The benevolence of positive aliens comes from understanding rather than passivity or sentimentalism, therefore they are not necessarily soft, complaisant, or always forthcoming. If an individual or society lacks the required maturity to handle the truth, positive aliens may resort to disguises, riddles, or silence instead of giving the truth and injuring the long-term outcome, thus they may seem unforthcoming or even dishonest if pushed. Likewise, they may allow a person to undergo grave suffering if absolutely necessary for their spiritual maturation. This is not in contradiction to compassion, but a consequence of compassion married to higher understanding. So the presence of abandonment, seeming cruelty, pretense, and secretiveness are not necessarily proof of negativity, as sometimes they are the only means available to accomplish positive ends. This should not be confused with rationalizations employed by negative aliens to justify their torture tactics, which are sadistic means serving negative ends.

Either may include Nordic aliens working with Greys. Although Greys appear to be organic automatons manufactured by negative alien factions to do the brunt of abduction work, some may be repurposed by lower positive ambiterrestrials to assist with the handling of human contacts. The presence of Greys does not, by itself, prove an alien group is benevolent or malevolent, although negative alien factions seem to use them more often.

Either may show up in dazzling ships and be physically attractive. No matter how sparkling, golden, crystalline, and seemingly divine the appearance of an alien ship, and no matter how noble, powerful, and angelic the appearance of its inhabitants, these qualities do not prove positive orientation. Negative forces are thoroughly familiar with our religious anticipations, scientific expectations, and psychological weaknesses, and they would do well to cloak themselves in these. Rather we should be mindful of the context and timing of their appearance, the consequences of their words and actions, and our intuitive reading of their intent.

Traits Unique to Negative/Impostor Aliens

Regardless of what they say, their true intent is revealed by the end results of their actions. They aim to position themselves as controlling authorities using the most indirect but efficient means possible. For instance, they might mimic positive aliens and say we must move forward out of our own freewill, that they are not here to save us. While that resembles a respect for freewill, it would be a ruse prodding us into legitimizing tyranny through the illusion of democracy. This could come about through the covert manipulation of public opinion through disinformation and well-placed opinion leaders so that the voluntary choices we make are in alignment with their agenda. So it matters little what technology, teachings, and leadership they offer; if the result is that we have less discernment, freedom, and spiritual power while they have more control and leverage, then that signifies a negative orientation. We don't have to wait to see the final results to make this determination; it will be evident early on from the direction things take in response to their open arrival.

They will demand heavy sacrifices, loss of freedoms, loss of sovereignty, in exchange for our security and survival. They do this by purposely ignoring and suppressing healthier alternatives that let us achieve security and survival not by conceding our sovereignty, but by utilizing it through increased awareness, vigilance, self-reliance, networking, responsibility, and spiritual balance.

People who are first and loudest to promote them also display the strongest indicators of being disinformation vectors.

They may encourage fanaticism, worship, deification, and pompous ceremonies to manipulate the masses into supporting them. They do this by targeting emotions, political correctness, false assumptions, wishful thinking, desperation, radical idealism, and other sub-rational vulnerabilities.

They either deny the existence of negative aliens, or else admit to their existence and scapegoat some disposable alien faction that is too small and limited to account for all the types of negative alien activities known to seasoned researchers. Their description of negative aliens may also be out of step with reality, too simplistic and catering to popular misconceptions, and likely ignoring the possibility of negative impostors.

If their ranks include both Reptilians and Mantids, they are almost certainly a negative alien faction or alliance. Each alone already has a deeply tarnished reputation in abduction research, and both working together reduces even further the possibility of positive orientation.

They will likely be first to reveal themselves because they are interventionists and have thoroughly set the stage for their appearance. Since their sales pitch would flop in the face of truths revealed by any genuine positive alien groups coming before them, they would have to show up before those groups can establish an atmosphere of discerning awareness. Once they seize overt control, however, they would have to further acculturate and program people so that positive groups who arrive later to expose the deception are received as attackers on the collective ego, maybe perceived as selfish traditionalists trying to keep humanity from reaping the technological rewards of alliance with the other alien factions.

They may show off their powers and technology to dazzle, persuade, and intimidate. They would leverage these demonstrations to make themselves appear more powerful than they are, contradict and deconstruct existing human paradigms to be replaced with their own, take more credit than they deserve (like claiming they are the sole creators of the human race), and dangle technological gifts as incentives for our cooperation. This has happened in our own history many times between power-tripping explorers and culture-shocked natives.

They resemble a cult in their interactions with humans. The same tactics used by cults to depersonalize and program recruits can and probably will be used on the population at large by negative aliens. This includes portraying the leaders as divine (aliens as our creators); breaking down the old identity (shattering people's views of reality and deconstruction old paradigms); portraying an old part of oneself as evil and outmoded (scapegoating of the corrupt human power structure); love bombing (saying they are here to help and guide us, that they are our loving brethren); confessionals (debasing humanity); fanaticism (addiction to the cause of progress and renewal); and isolation from friends and family (quarantine and separation of the "progressive people" and "elite hybrid class" from the lower remnants of society).

If they espouse a spirituality that we should adopt, it is one that results in pacification, suggestibility, depersonalization, submission, and lowered discernment. It may carry overtones of existentialism, Buddhism, deism, pantheism, and other impersonal philosophies that can serve the alien agenda while maintaining the appearance of reasonableness and sanctity. Non-dualism serves as a convenient diversion for negative entities. Ultimately, the spirituality they push will be a form of spiritual materialism that disconnects us from higher spiritual intelligence, something that logically justifies their authority through a modernized version of Divine Right by Kings, that keeps us loyal to their cause, and that prepares us for becoming more like them.

Traits Unique to Positive Aliens

When one intuitively feels their vibe or clairvoyantly scans the quality of their consciousness, one will sense wholesomeness, sincerity, intelligence, sobriety, composure, thoughtfulness, and foresight.

They place high value on learning, knowledge, discernment, wisdom, understanding, and other virtues of consciousness, not only by saying they value these, but by demonstrating it in action and consequence through the imparting of verifiable, practical, and profound information that has an empowering effect upon the individual receiving and comprehending it.

They make appeals to reason, experience, intuition, and the inner knowing that comes with higher spiritual intelligence. They refrain from making persuasive appeals to ego, blind emotionalism, wishful thinking, false assumptions, and other hooks. So they address the higher more mature aspects of being, instead of the baser and more ignorant aspects. For example, they would never play up their authority by loading their words with fancy titles or obscure technical jargon intended to impress.

They take a conscientious approach to interaction with humans and demonstrate a deep respect for freewill, independent development, and self-discovery. Thus they minimize their profile and downplay their identity to avoid triggering a worship and deification response that would turn them into objects of obsession and preoccupation and draw attention away from the higher purpose of the interaction.

They aim to help us make informed decisions, rather than persuade us to make a particular decision. The more informed we are, the better. Therefore they would not withhold certain information if it would help us make a wiser decision. This includes information on negative forces and their methods of deception.

They are careful to avoid creating dependency. Instead of carrying us on their backs or leading us like sheep, they would rather we become self-sufficient and discerning, to pull our own weight through our own challenges. At best they act as catalysts, moderators, and assistants to this process, but never as substitutes.

They place greater emphasis on our spiritual liberation and evolution than technological development. Only if the latter indirectly safeguards the first would technological help be given. Otherwise they would withhold technology until we advance ethically and intellectually enough to understand and use it responsibly. They would more likely drop technological catalysts into the minds of human inventors without revealing themselves, so that it takes root and advances in a natural fashion within human society instead of being traumatically imposed from the outside.

In their interactions with people, they resemble an altruistic esoteric mystery school. They are discreet, choose their disciples wisely, advance their disciples through stages of initiation, aim to build their disciples into more capable and empowered human beings, and have the purpose of preserving human freewill and catalyzing its evolution.

Ultimately they are selfless, not in the sense of lacking individuality, but in being mindful of the spiritual welfare of others and dedicated to the balance and harmony of the entire system and not just themselves. They never manipulate or steal from others to satisfy their own needs. If their understanding of a situation demands self-sacrifice, or if they are given a divine mission that requires it, they will act accordingly, bravely and with honor.

They advocate the transcending of ignorant, anti-spiritual, animalistic, egoistic, and selfish impulses without necessarily berating these but pointing out a higher way. Their dedication is to the spiritual perfection of the individual.

In revealing themselves to the world, they are unlikely to be the first ones. Our civilization is unprepared for contact and they would be responsible for the traumatic results. Positive aliens would be burdened with reactions of irrational fear and worship, of having to educate humanity on the nature of alien life, all while having to keep the peace and transition people into the post-

Disclosure world. The logistics of this are too difficult. Better that they allow the impostors to show up first and expend their own resources to transition us. Then, after human opposition mounts but before negative forces have taken full control, they can step in and impart critical information to turn the tide. It is after tasting the bitter fruit of deception and learning some important lessons that humanity will appreciate and understand what they offer. Only then will deep and prolonged contact with positive forces be possible.

Problematic Probable Futures

What can we do? How can we prepare? This depends on what will happen. So many factors are converging to create a nonlinear chaotic situation that even the wildest outcomes once thought impossible can become possible and even likely. Let's take another look at some future scenarios, except this time by listing individual components that could be mixed and matched to create various scenarios.

Political debates, ideological wars and movements: This assumes the world remains fully stable and civil, all infrastructure intact, life relatively normal. Upon Disclosure and contact there would begin a process of philosophical, scientific, political, and religious debate to decide on future human-alien relations. This would turn into ideological battles along deeply polarized lines. Most of the conflict would be done through verbal, written, political means, and knowledge, information, awareness will counter disinformation and ignorance. The internet will play an important role in facilitating the debate, alongside television and radio.

Police state lock-down, global government, totalitarianism: The world is already shifting into authoritarianism. If this continues and reaches its conclusion, then along with disinformation and ignorance, the other challenge will be operating within an oppressive climate where dissenters are branded as terrorists or enemy combatants and preemptively detained or denied vital services.

Temporary period of chaos requiring survival: Natural disasters, real or staged terror attacks, and nuclear or electronic warfare can damage infrastructure and heavily disrupt the modern way of life. Food, water, and energy distribution, transportation, and communication would all be impaired. For example, extreme solar activity could collapse modern civilization by frying out vital electronics, with effects similar to an EMP attack and results similar to New Orleans after Hurricane Katrina, except nationwide.* The response would be a combination of people coming together to support each other, others descending into anarchy as desperation sets in, and harsh measures by the authorities to maintain order, distribute supplies, and round up troublemakers into internment camps.

Division of survivors into "in-system" and "out-system" groups: Social chaos never lasts long, even the Dark Ages eventually returned to order. The question is which type of order, under whose authority, and at what cost. If modern life is disrupted for several months or years and the government and military retain their continuity, then the restored order would likely be on the authoritarian side, though limited in geographic reach due to logistical limitations. This suggests there would be limited pockets where order is restored under an authoritarian regime, where survivors make heavy concessions to live within those territories. The rest of the remaining population would be cut off from the system and forced to fend for itself, eventually forming a parallel culture to the technocratic one. Science fiction has depicted this possibility in many instances.

* The government-funded EMP Commission analyzed the potential consequences of electromagnetic disruptions caused by solar activity or high altitude nuclear weapons. Their report may be read at http://empcommission.org. Some researchers are predicting the next solar cycle will be among the most active in history, peaking 2010-2013. If solar activity depends on planetary positions, then the next catastrophic solar flare is predictable. In that case, savvy elements in the military and government aware of this catastrophe might already be preparing opportunistic contingencies for this event.

Post-apocalyptic tribalism under alien gods: This assumes modern civilization collapses completely and no organized authority remains. Mankind would then split into tribes, and if aliens interceded it would reestablish conditions similar to ancient times where particular alien factions presided over their respective human tribes.

Dimensional Shift and reality splitting into separate timelines or realms of existence: The previous possibilities assumed a single consensual reality. If a timeline split occurs, different people would shunt onto separate probable futures depending on their individual spiritual profiles. This may evolve into a dimensional shift where some individuals graduate to the level shared by lower ambiterrestrials. It would be a rotation away from our current timeline, which could continue on without them and undergo some of the more apocalyptic scenarios given above.

Post-Shift disorientation and choosing sides: Direct contact with lower ambiterrestrials is inevitable for portions of humanity who undergo a Shift into their native environment. Confusion would follow as various ambiterrestrial factions vie for the allegiance of the newcomers.

Arrival of alien reinforcements for physical conquest: There is always the possibility that negative aliens will resort to force if their plans for a peaceful takeover meet failure due to popular backlash. While the peaceful method of conquest is more efficient and less troublesome, that does not mean a fallback plan of physical enforcement or annihilation is out of the question. Since this enforcement would require a large battalion, which for the past several thousand years had no reason to stay nearby earth, such a battalion would have to be brought in from afar.

Total warfare, UFO sky battles, activated sleepers: If anyone crosses the line and upsets the balance of power through use of force, whether out of fear or desperation, then anything goes. There is a pattern within the abduction and MILAB phenomenon of abductees being trained to pilot advanced crafts, operate exotic weaponry, and employ superhuman powers in warlike situations between humans and aliens or between opposing alien factions; they would only need to be triggered and called up to perform those functions. The potential for human-alien or alien-alien war exists.

Solutions

Things could go any number of ways depending which of the above components combine in what sequence. This makes finding appropriate solutions difficult because there are so many possibilities to take into account.

I have decided to completely skip idealistic solutions focused on institutional initiatives, social movements, and political activism because these arise and evolve on their own. Instead I will focus on individual solutions that pay off regardless of the scenario, that can be put into practice immediately. This means spiritual preparation and informational preparation.

Informational Preparation

Be aware and choose accordingly: Throwing your support behind the wrong leader, signing the wrong petition, recommending the wrong source, or joining the wrong movement can all be prevented by acquiring enough awareness to know what you would actually be supporting. The points raised in this book can help you sidestep the more regrettable choices like naively recommending blatant disinformation or promoting an alien group that has all the signs of being negative impostors. Other people may not know any better, but now you do. The more aware you become, the wiser your decisions, and the more your words, thoughts, and actions meet their mark and reinforce positive futures.

Balance one-sided discussions and remedy naive viewpoints: You may find yourself in a personal conversation, email correspondence, or message board discussion where the topic of aliens or some related topic comes up. If the points made are clearly ill-informed, founded on false assumptions, or promoting disinformation, then the duty falls upon you (assuming you have the knowledge) to add some balance by offering counter-ideas for consideration, or sharing a source you find valuable and including your own commentary on the source. The goal is not to forcefully convince others, as that would be preaching, but rather to give them the opportunity to make a more informed decision by considering some new ideas or sources. If they stubbornly ignore it and rationalize it away and you find there is nothing more you can do, then be at peace knowing you did your part. Otherwise guilt will weigh on your conscience for not having spoken up when you could have.

Collect, archive, and share important information: Having a growing collection of books, videos, links, and other materials at your fingertips allows you to quickly get others up to speed by connecting them with the right information. Also, the internet may not be around much longer, so it would be a good idea to archive materials that may soon become unavailable.

Expand and refine your communication skills: If necessary, put some effort into polishing up your verbal and written skills. You may find yourself needing to impart your share of knowledge and information to others and it would be a shame if the process were bottlenecked by communication shortfalls.

Spiritual Preparation

Keep alive compassion and understanding: If nothing else, cultivating compassion and understanding will keep you from falling into arrogance, cynicism, and depression that may come with knowing about the negative aspects of this existence. Unpleasant truths should not be ignored, but understood fully in context of a bigger spiritual picture. This can be trained in everyday situations that would otherwise provoke bitter, vengeful, envious, contemptuous thoughts.

Stay levelheaded in times of distress: Panic, frustration, rage, and terror are examples of losing self-control, and that means temporary loss of rationality, freewill, and balance. It means reacting mechanically instead of acting consciously and responsibly. Instead of being blindly shoved forward by those impulses, one must become self-aware and willfully focused on the task at hand. The hardest challenge will be staying in touch with your intuition and reasoning when a calamitous situation attempts to sweep you away. We face little tests like these periodically, and they make good practice for seeing how calm you can stay under pressure. The more you maintain your composure during these situations, the better prepared you will be in the times ahead.

Use intent to shape probability where necessary: Thoughts, emotions, and intent shape the probability of your experiences. This can be proven through personal experimentation. You can boost the probability of success, assistance, and protection by earnestly praying or intending for these, and likewise you can reduce the probability of failure, attack, or misfortune by being calmly aware of their possibility and preparing to handle them should they arise. Mastering this conscious influence over your personal subsection of reality helps level the playing field by extending your abilities beyond mere physical causality.

Stay in synchronistic flow: Life moves with a certain flow that points in the direction of optimal probable futures. When you are in synchronization with this flow, everything falls into place, works out smoothly, and you feel energized and enthusiastic. The results of staying in the flow are progress, success, balance, and growth in awareness. When out of the flow, things fall apart, meet failure, suffer unnecessary setbacks, and you feel a sense of emptiness or wrongness about the path. Staying in the flow involves a combination of right attitude, right choices, and right actions. Through observation one can determine the inner and outer conditions necessary to stay in the flow.

Develop psychic abilities: If developed safely and used wisely, psychic abilities like precognition, auric vision, etheric energy manipulation for healing purposes further even the odds. The most basic psychic skill that anyone can develop is intuition. Intuition can be developed by noticing which inner impressions heralded certain external outcomes. The test of genuine intuition is whether it consistently turns out to be right. If it was wrong, then it wasn't real intuition. After sufficient trial and error, real intuition will be distinguishable from false signals (like wishful thinking).

Physical preparation is also necessary, but I have no need to cover it myself since material on survivalism is easy to find. My only suggestion there is to stock up on durable goods, keep most of the cash out of the bank, exercise to increase your strength and endurance, and boost your immune system through a diet free of wheat, dairy, and refined sweeteners. I can say from experience, however, that spiritual preparation is more powerful since it alters probability and works across a wide spectrum of scenarios, whereas physical preparations target only a few scenarios predicted in advance.

Conclusion

The cards are being stacked against intuition, sound reasoning, and verboten evidence through the arsenal of disinformation, mind-programming, groomed opinion leaders, and other weapons of mass manipulation discussed in the preceding parts. Along with sharp reasoning, intuition is our most natural and immediate line of defense against alien deception. It is the beginning of higher spiritual intelligence where truth is recognized directly, and thus it undercuts clever sophistry, emotional manipulation, and selective evidence, which appeal only to intellect and emotionalism.

The actual standards of positivity are already engraved in our souls and express themselves in moments of spiritual conscience and knowingness. We must remember what we truly stand for by turning within and recognizing the resonant goals and values there. These are buried beneath all the false goals and values grafted onto us by societal and biological programming. That is the depth we must plumb if we are to be ready for open contact with alien life.
